B-29 Sets World Non-Stop Distance Record

NAZIS GO ON TRIAL FOR WAR CRIMES

PLANE BREAKS BRITISH MARK IN GUAM HOP

Superfort Reaches Washington at 1:35 After 35-Hour 8,000 Mile Trip.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 —A B-29 which came all the way from Guam without a stop landed here this afternoon, and the Army Air Forces immediately claimed a world's distance record.

The plane hit the runways at National airport at 1:35 p. m. EST, approximately 35 hours and some 8,000 miles after it left Guam.

The unrecognized distance record is 7,158.44 miles, set by the British in 1938 on a flight from Egypt to Australia.

Two weeks ago four planes, led by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Armstrong, flew non-stop from the Japanese island of Hokkaido to Washington, a distance of about 6,740 miles.

Last month three Superfortresses, carrying three generals, flew non-stop from Hokkaido to Chicago, 5,995 miles. They were forced down by lack of fuel.

An Army official said today the Guam flight is longer because the B-29 did not take the direct way home—over the top of the world

Has Special Crew

The plane carried a crew of specially picked and trained personnel, veterans of the Pacific war.

The plane is a standard B-29 minus armor and radar.

POUND TO FACE TREASON CHARGE. Ezra Pound, 60-year-old American poet, who has spent the past 35 years in Europe, has been returned to his native land to face charges of treason. ## KNOX FORECAST PEARL HARBOR, PROBERS LEARN

Late Navy Secretary Predicted Attack on Base of Fleet in January, 1941.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — The late Navy Secretary Frank Knox predicted on Jan. 24, 1941 that if war with Japan occurred, hostilities might begin with a surprise attack upon the Pacific fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor.

His prediction was made in a letter to Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of war, and was made public today by the congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee.

Introduction of the Knox letter was one of several developments at the day's sessions. Others included:

1 — Admiral J. O. Richardson, commander of the Pacific fleet until 10 months prior to the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor, testified the late President Roosevelt was "rather loathe" to increase the manpower of the fleet in the midsummer of 1940.

2 — Committee aides said Admiral William D. Leahy, Mr. Roosevelt's chief of staff during the war, would be called to testify during the day.

Admiral Richardson also told the committee that after a July, 1940, series of conferences with President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull and others, he left Washington "with the distinct impression there was an opinion in Washington that Japan could be bluffed."

Committee Counsel William D. Mitchell had asked Richardson what Hull told him, with reference to Richardson's insistence that the fleet should not be massed at Pearl Harbor.

"Mr. Hull very completely and comprehensively presented his views of the relations between the United States and Japan," Richardson said. "He felt that we should take a very strong position, and that retention of the fleet in Hawaii was a reflection of that strong attitude." Then the admiral added his remark about the bluffing opinion

The Knox letter, dated more than 10 months prior to the Japanese strike at the base, said "If war eventuates with Japan, it is believed easily possible that hostilities would be initiated by a surprise attack upon the fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor."

"In my opinion," Knox wrote, "the inherent possibilities of a major disaster to the fleet or naval base warrant taking every step, as rapidly as can be done, that will increase the joint readiness of the Army and Navy to withstand a raid of the character mentioned above."

Six Hazards Seen

Knox envisaged six hazards which he listed in this order of importance: air bombing attack, air torpedo plane attack, sabotage, submarine attack, mining and bombardment by gunfire.

"Defense against all but the first two of these dangers appears to have been provided for satisfactorily," he wrote.

Stimson in a letter dated Feb. 7, 1941, concurred as to "the urgency of our making every possible preparation to meet such a hostile effort."

The Navy secretary told Stimson any such Japanese attacks probably would be launched from a striking force of carriers and supporting vessels, with the probable maximum enemy effort put as 12 aircraft squadrons, and the minimum at two.

Admiral J. O. Richardson testified today the late President Roosevelt was "rather loathe" to increase the manpower of the Pacific fleet in midsummer, 1940.

Richardson recounted for the senate-house Pearl Harbor investigating committee a series of conferences he held with the President, Cordell Hull, then secretary of state, and others shortly after the fall of France.

The bespectacled admiral, who was relieved of command of the Pacific fleet 10 months before the Japanese sneak attack, testified that in a three-hour conference at the White House on July 8, 1940 he stressed what he felt was the need for more men to man the ships of the fleet.

Confident of Draft

"The President was rather loathe to increase the number of men because he felt, as he expressed it to me, that men in mechanical trade in civilian life could be quickly inducted and

TELLS OF PRE-PEARL HARBOR TALK WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT. Testifying before the pre-Pearl Harbor investigating committee, Admiral James O. Richardson, who was in command of naval forces at Pearl Harbor before Admiral Husband Kimmel took over the job, told of a luncheon he had with the late President Roosevelt at which the president said that "sooner or later" Japan would make a mistake and America would enter the war. Richardson is shown at right at the hearing with, left to right: Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan; Rep John W. Murphy of Pennsylvania and Senator Scott W. Lucas of Illinois. ## 20 OF ACCUSED LEADERS HEAR CHARGES READ

Defendants Gloomy as Historic Court Opens; May Plead Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

NUERNBURG, Nov. 20— A score of gloomy Nazis sat dejectedly today before an international military tribunal and heard themselves formally accused of Nazi war crimes, the murder of 10,000,000 Europeans, plunder, horror and torture.

Throughout the opening session of the historic trial for their lives, Hitlerian followers such as corpulent Hermann Goering, vague Rudolph Hess and defiant Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel listened while spokesmen of the nations which crushed their hierarchy recited crimes the world had never before witnessed.

By turns, prosecutors of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia droned through the four counts of the 35,000-word indictment accusing the last of the leading Nazis of conspiracy to commit crimes against the peace, actual commission of crimes against the peace, war crimes and crimes against humanity.

Everything Read

Even the appendices containing individual charges against the 20 defendants were read, meaning the men could not be arraigned until the Wednesday session.

The Nazis sometimes sat with earphones clasped on to hear translations in German piped to them as the prosecutors read in English, French and Russian.

Of the 24 originally indicted, one is at large, two are too ill to attend and one has committed suicide. Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, was being tried in absentia. Robert Ley, the labor leader, took his own life. Ernest Kaltenbrunner of the Gestapo and Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach were ill

After the indictments are read in full, each defendant will plead either "guilty" or "not guilty." Then the prosecution will make its opening statement.

Hess Looks Impish

Rudolph Hess, an almost impish gin playing about his sunken mouth, was lined up in the dock with the Nazi defendants—20 in all. The 21st, Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, is being tried in absentia.

What disposition the tribunal would make of the reports of alienists on Hess' mental condition had yet to be announced.

British Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, announced the trial would continue without the presence of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, former Nazi security police chief, who has suffered a cranial hemmorhage.

Defense Listens Closely

The defense attorneys listened intently to every word.

But from the Paunchy prima donna of Nazism, Hermann Goering, to the quiet propaganda ministry's handman, Hans Fritzsche, the defendants listened with varying emotions as lurid deeds

VOTE RECOUNT SET FOR NOV. 26

Check of Ballots Cast on School Issue Will Start at 10 A. M. Monday.

Recount of ballots cast on the city school bond issue in the Nov. 6 election will begin at the offices of the Marion county board of elections at 10 a. m. Monday.

The time for starting the recount was set last night at a meeting of the board. It was held over until the first of the week because of the interference of the Thanksgiving holiday Thursday.

Election officials estimate that two or three days will be required to complete the recount since 9,157 separate ballots must be counted.

The recount will be made by members of the board of elections, James F. Lauer of Prospect, chairman, George Thomas of Prospect and Russell M. Wilhelm and Mrs. Cora Rexroth, both of Marion. Other board officials are Kenneth Fields, clerk, and Mrs. Nora Fetter, deputy clerk.

Complete Recount Asked

The Marion Civic Planning Group, which sponsored the school and other bond issues in the recent election, has asked for a recount of all 30 city precincts and two Marion township precincts parts of which are in the city school district.

The procedure by which the board will make the recount was outlined today by election officials. First, sealed packets of ballots will be removed from the records of each precinct. Then the packets will be opened and the special issues ballots sorted from others. The count then will be made, precinct by precinct.

The count will be made only of votes cast for the school bond issue.

Basis Of Cost Payments

After a precinct is recounted the percentage of error, if any, must be figured. If errors of two per cent are found, either for or against the issue, the board can not assess the $10 recount fee for that precinct.

The Civic Planning Group has deposited $320 with the election board at the time the recount was requested.

The school issue lost by six votes and if the recount reveals a shift of this number from no to yes the issue will pass However, a greater number of favorable votes will be needed to reach the required 65 per cent if errors are found which change the total number of votes cast.

Christmas Lights Expected On for Parade Friday

Christmas street decorations will be completed and lighted in time for the Santa Claus parade Friday noon, the Marion Reserve Power Co. reported today.

Strands of colored lights festooned with green laurel have been hung across Main and Center streets at every light pole from Orchard street to High street on Center and from the railroads to the first alley south of the Marion Reserve Power Co. on Main street.

The remainder of the decorations will be hung tomorrow. Two small Christmas trees will be tied to each light pole about ten feet above the ground and a colored sign bearing a picture of Santa Claus wearing a steel helmet and the words "Welcome Home Veterans," will be hung beneath the trees.

Jap Chief Named In Manchuria Incident Commits Hara-Kiri

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Nov. 20—Baron Gen. Shigeru Honjo, accused war criminal and reputed ringleader in the conquest of Manchuria, committed hara-kiri today less than 24 hours after he was ordered arrested.

The baron was lying on his right side in a pool of blood in his office at the former Japanese war college when Allied reporters and photographers arrived.

Blood still oozed from the body and the hilt of his ceremonial sword was thrust up from the sheet which partly covered the body. A small cup containing tea dregs was beside the body.

The old-line officer performed the Japanese hara-kiri ritual by slashing his stomach cross wise, then cutting his throat.

But instead of the ritualistic kimono, Honjo wore his army uniform. His upthrust boots were highly polished.

Honjo, one of 11 war leaders of the past imperialistic decade ordered imprisoned yesterday, died shortly after his secretary found his slashed body on his office floor.

"I cannot endure as a soldier of our country to appear before a court of Allied powers," Honjo said in a letter written shortly before he killed himself.

"I find no way of apologizing to his majesty and the people for bringing my nation to such a miserable state of affairs.

"It grieves my heart when I think of the surviving families of our men who died on battlefields."

Bromfield Warns America Must Protect Her Resources or Fall from Ranks of Great Nations

Noted Author Points Way to Sound Economy Based on Healthy Agriculture; Speaks at C. of C. Dinner.

By W. T. BUCHANAN

America will stand as a great nation only so long as its people preserve and protect their real wealth—the agricultural lands, the forests and mineral resources—Louis Bromfield, noted author, lecturer and farmer of Richland county, told 225 Marion county men and women last night at the annual dinner meeting of the Marion Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Harding.

America's record in this respect is exceedingly poor, Bromfield warned. He went into antiquity to cite the decay of the Babylonia and the Roman empire. They fell, he said, because they greedily exhausted their farm lands and other natural resources and could no longer support their people. He cited the great areas of China, denuded of top soil and worthless as a means of support of 400 million people.

In spite of these examples America had done a quicker and more dreadful job of exhausting and wasting its natural resources than they, he said.

100 Years of Waste

In the course of 100 years, he declared, America has come to see its great iron ore deposits in the Duluth area nearly exhausted, its copper supplies all but gone, one fourth of its farm land destroyed for agricultural purposes and another one-fourth on the way to exhaustion.

Speaking on "Agriculture, the Foundation of Our Economy," he told his audience that a sound economy in any country must be based on a sound agricultural system and a good balance between farming and industry.

Ohio, he said, is well blessed in this respect with great industrial cities surrounded by fertile and productive farm lands. "If all the countries of the world were so situated their economic problems would be easily solved and there would be little reason for wars."

Mr. Bromfield pointed to the beginning of the present industrial era in England 150 years ago and its spread to America. In no country had industry so great an opportunity to develop and expand as here, he said.

"But as industry developed to its present stage two schools of thought have arisen regarding the basis of the nation's economy. One, the theory of labor unions sees the pay check as the sole basis of our economy. On the other hand industry, in many instances, believes it is responsible for maintaining a sound nation," he said.

Agriculture Overlooked

"Both viewpoints overlook agriculture from which 50 per cent of our population derives its livlihood, directly on indirectly."

Since the Civil war there has been no real prosperity in America, Mr. Bromfield said. "We have had only a series of booms and depressions."

"One of the great illusions of our time," he said, "is to consider money as real wealth. It is only a symbol of wealth as represented by the nation's natural resources.

"In times of depression we move away from the belief in

1 KILLED WHEN AUTO HITS PARKED TRUCK

Three Others Injured in Accident Near Crestline.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Nov. 20—One person was killed and three others injured last night near here when an automobile crashed into a parked truck.

Miss Velda Temple of Lexington, an employe of the Belle Music shop in Mansfield, died as she was being moved to an ambulance. Coroner McClough of Richland county declared death resulted from a skull fracture and crushed chest.

The accident happened about a mile northeast of here on Route 30 about 9 o'clock. The truck, driven by John Arvan of Mansfield, was parked to have a flat tire repaired and the automobile, driven by Glenn M Johnson of Mansfield, crashed into the rear of the truck. Arvan had placed a warning flare on the road, the highway patrol stated.

In Emergency hospital here are Johnson, Myrtle Mott and Nicolas Mott of Mansfield, other occupants of the car with Miss Temple. Her body was taken to the Robert F. Beck funeral home here then removed to the Snyder funeral home in Lexington.

GM PROMISES REPLY FRIDAY

Fails To Meet Strike Deadline Set for Today by Auto Workers.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Nov. 20—General Motors Corp. today informed the CIO United Automobile Workers union that it will reply to the union proposal for arbitration of the 30 per cent wage increase "on or before Friday, Nov. 23."

• • •

By The Associated Press

The long and bitter wage dispute between the CIO United Automobile Workers and General Motors Corp., appeared headed for another showdown today. Strike action, which would affect some 300,000 of the nation's automobile workers, was regarded as possible by one union spokesman.

The union's latest move in its drive to obtain a 30 per cent wage rate increase for auto workers was its proposal to submit the controversy to arbitration General Motors had until 4 p. m., E.S.T. today to reply to the union's offer.

Called Last Resort

The action came in Detroit from delegates to the General Motors Council of the CIO-UAW, representing more than 300,000 workers, and was termed by R. J. Thomas, CIO-UAW president as "the last resort" to peaceful settlement.

One informed union spokesman said he believed rejection of the proposal by General Motors would prompt council delegates to recommend immediate strike action. Such authority is vested in the union's six-man strategy committee.

Walter P. Reuther, CIO-UAW vice president, said "we want to avert a strike," and added the union proposes to G-M that "we submit to immediate arbitration our controversy over 30 per cent increase in wage rates without price increases." G-M President

Once Glamour Boys of Europe, Nazi Chiefs Are Shorn of Glory

(Editor Note: Louis P. Lochner, veteran foreign correspondent who as chief of the Berlin bureau of The Associated Press witnessed the rise of the Nazis from 1928 until he was interned by the Germans in 1941, is a member of the AP staff covering the Nuernberg war crimes trial. Here he gives a word picture of the men in the prisoners' dock.)

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

NUERNBERG, Nov. 20—They were no longer glamour boys strutting across the European stage, these 20 Nazi leaders who filed today into the crowded Nuernberg courtroom.

Herman Goering, without his medals dangling on his chest and the bejewelled marshal's wand, which he flashed at adulating crowds, didn't seem to be Goering.

Julius Streicher, no longer dealing out blows with a riding switch, did not seem to be the real Streicher.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, unattended by the retinue of foreign office flunkies in SS uniforms who handed him state papers before his theatrical speeches as foreign minister, looked again like the champagne merchant he once was—only too old and spent to inspire the confidence of a prospective customer.

Look Like Prisoners

Baldur von Schirach and Hans Pritzsche, the younger element in the Nazi hierarchy, appeared as just two meek, pale-faced defendants at the bar of justice.

The irony of fate placed side by side defendants who notoriously disliked each other.

Pudgy Walter Funk sat next to his economic and financial rival, Hjalmar Schacht, whom he replaced as minister of economics and president of the Reichsbank. Funk seemed to try to hide his nervousness by loquacity. But Hitler's one-time financial wizard peered disdainfully through his chuck pince nez at the diminutive Funk and refused to talk.

Huber Co. Goes Over Top In Victory Loan Bond Purchases

The long-unused air raid siren at the Huber Manufacturing Co. plant was in action yesterday. Not to warn of a raid by enemy planes but to advise employes of the plant that they had gone over the top in the Victory Loan drive.

Shortly after noon the siren let out a long blast to signify the sale of $21,744.50 in bonds to put the plant over its quota of $21,093.75.

The siren has been blowing every time another $1,000 worth of bonds were sold in the current drive and will continue to be blown at there intervals during the remainder of the campaign.

The Huber Co is the second Marion industry to report going over the top in the eighth war loan. Last week the Universal Cooler division of International Detroit, Inc., reached its goal after a one-day solicitation.

Since the drive started in October the Huber Co. has been holding departmental meetings to urge employes to increase their bond purchases over the regular payroll deductions.

PADDY IS RETURNED

Paddy Is "Dog-Tired" After 70-Mile Walk

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20—Paddy, a black-and-tan terrier, was returned today after apparently walking 70 miles from Youngstown to Cleveland.

The dog lived at a trailer camp until his owner, Mrs. [illegible] moved to Youngstown two months ago. Paddy reportedly grew fond of the trailer camp because he was discharged here yesterday.

Leffingwell, county dog warden, said "his toenails were worn down and his battered appearance indicated he had been on many hikes enroute."

The self-lifting tractor is now a reality. It rises any height, up to four inches, virtually drawing itself up "by its own bootstraps." The lifting operation is accomplished by placing light tubular frames beneath the axles, connecting the rear to the two arms of a Ford-Ferguson tractor's hydraulic linkage and lightly touching the "finger-tip control" lever which is one feature of the Ferguson System. The entire operation takes less than one minute.

Tip: How To Dine Out Like a King Dining In

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Patrons of a Broadway cafeteria eating from plain, sturdy restaurant plates are puzzled to find one diner eating, night after night, from dazzling gold and silver plate.

He's a New York physician who takes his equipment with him. An attractive wooden case he carries contains a silver cup, gold-plated cup, silver trays and dishes.

When these utensils are filled from the cafeteria's steam tables, the physician sits down to dine like royalty, using two dainty napkins from his case.

The meal finished, the cafeteria permits him to do his own K.P. on the spot.

Users of alcoholic beverages contribute in state taxes about $300,000,000 a year.

BAT PLANE—Like a bat with curved wings, the British Handley Page "Manx" has neither tail nor rudder. Two pusher propellers in the rear are fitted to wings that are more than twice the length of the fuselage.

Mrs. DeProsse Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Rohame DeProsse of Marion were conducted yesterday afternoon in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. L. V. Bauguess, pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church. Burial was in Marion cemetery. Mrs. DeProsse died in the home of a great niece, Mrs. Edwin King of 192 Barnhart street Friday.

Kibitzer and Victim Have It Out in Court

NEW YORK—When a barber and a neighbor charged each other with assault, the barber testified in Flatbush court:

"He makes nasty remarks to my customers when they come into my shop, and he bothers me while I'm cutting their hair or shaving them, and he tells them they got terrible haircuts when they leave.

"Besides, he is always putting his face up against the window and making faces. It makes me and my customers nervous."

The judge advised the men to "abide by the Golden Rule and try to respect the rights of each other," and suggested that the kibitzer move his sidewalk chair away from the barber shop, eliminating the temptation to carp.

Said one defendant, leaving court:

"You keep your chair away from my shop—and no more funny remarks!"

Said the other:

"I'll put that chair where I like, and you can't stop me!"

Said a court attendant:

"They'll be back soon."

OWU MAPS PROGRAM TO MEET VET NEEDS

Will Improve Housing Facilities, Start Special Courses.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 20 — A five-point program designed especially to meet the needs of returned veterans has been announced by President H. J. Burgstahler of Ohio Wesleyan university.

Three of these points affect housing and two course offerings.

Murphy hall, formerly a co-operative house for men, will be converted into apartments for former GI's and their wives, Burgstahler said.

All fraternities on the campus will be open by the beginning of the March semester and will be operating normally, so that veterans who wish to affiliate with these groups may do so.

Low-cost housing units will be built under the stands at Selby stadium. It is planned to house 56 men here. Dining facilities are also being considered.

For veterans who wish to begin their education as quickly as possible, a special term for freshmen will be opened on Jan. 2. This term will operate on an accelerated basis, so that veterans enrolling on Jan. 2 may complete their courses by the latter part of February and be ready to begin work on March 1 in step with other students who have been in school since the begining of the fall semester.

A summer term is also planned for veterans who do not wish to interrupt their education.

WEDDING ANNOUNCED

GALION, Nov. 20—Announcement has been made here of the Aug. 11 wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helman of Galion. Mrs. Helman is the former Martha Beardsley of Centerburg. The marriage was performed in Russell, Ky., by the Methodist minister of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Helman are living in Galion. He is recording secretary of Local 1151, International Association of Machinists.

Bolivia has a network of 5,580 miles of navigable rivers.

OHIO TEACHER DIES

By The Associated Press

Try These Holiday Party Tid-Bits

PARTY CANAPE TRAY . . . For festive food. . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

From now on, for a good six weeks, it's party-time in the U.S.A. People always appreciate pretty and tasty tid-bits to go with cocktails or tea and coffee, and if your party requires no other work it's fun to do a little fussing over these for the delectation of your guests and your own great satisfaction. Here are suggestions for little snacks which aren't too hard to accomplish and give a very professional touch to the snack tray.

Fried Shrimp

One and one-half pounds shrimp, 2 eggs, ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of paprika, fat for frying.

Remove shells and intestinal veins from shrimp. Boil in slightly salted water until done (about 15 minutes). Drain and dry between paper towels. Dip into slightly beaten eggs and then into flour, seasoned with salt and paprika. Fry in shallow fat, turning to brown all sides and handling gently so as not to break the shrimp. Serve with real mayonnaise, into which has been stirred a few stuffed olives and a small sweet gherkin, finely chopped.

Devilled Melbas

Day-old rolls, 3-ounce can devilled ham, 1 hard cooked egg, 3 tablespoons real mayonnaise.

Slice rolls very thin. Place on cookie sheet in slow oven and bake a half hour or until golden brown. Chop egg and mix with ham and mayonnaise. Spread mixture on toasted roll slices.

Fish Balls

One cup cooked, flaked fish, ¼ cup dry bread crumbs, 3 tablespoons real mayonnaise, fat for frying.

Mix fish, bread crumbs and mayonnaise. Shape into small balls. Cook in fat until golden brown, turning gently to brown all sides. (These are best cooked in deep fat if you have that much to use!)

Tomato Treats

One package lemon - flavored gelatin, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon basil vinegar, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Warm tomato juice and dissolve gelatin in it. Mix dry ingredients with vinegar and Worcestershire sauce and mix well into gelatin mixture. Pour into big shallow pan, so that the gelatin will harden in about one-half inch thickness. Place in refrigerator and when ready to serve cut into fancy shapes and place them on salted crackers. Decorate with a dash of real mayonnaise.

Masked Eggs

Cut hard-cooked eggs in half, lengthwise. Place each on a leaf of lettuce or escarole. Frost egg-halves with mayonnaise and garnish with pimiento strips.

New Bloomington Class in Minstrels at Morral

A top-hat benefit minstrel show will be presented by the New Bloomington High school in the Morral High school gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight, it was announced today by W. E. Harrington, superintendent. Entertainment will be under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Lovett, supervisor of music of the New Bloomington school.

The sophomore class of the Morral High school, headed by Miss Mildred Edington is sponsoring the benefit and proceeds are to be used for promotional expenses of class projects.

OHIO DRIVE HALF-WAY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20—Ohio is past the half-way mark in the Eighth Victory Loan drive, bond headquarters announced. Residents bought $123,247,083 worth of victory bonds through Nov. 17, or 53 per cent of the quota. Sale of small bonds—series E—is within 75 per cent of the $119,000,000 goal.

Court News

Funds Transferred

Judge Paul D. Smith has ordered transfer of money from the general fund to improvement fund in action on petitions filed in common pleas court by trustees of Salt Rock and Claridon townships. The sum of $3,000 was ordered transferred to the road and bridge fund in Salt Rock township, and $1,000 from the general fund to the road and bridge fund in Claridon township. George T. Geran and James E. Reed represented the respective township boards.

Suit Dismissed

The suit of Ruth Williams against the Marion Rapid Transit Inc., in the sum of $25,000 for injuries suffered on April 4, 1941 when the plaintiff alleged she was injured when alighting from a bus belonging to the defendant company, has been dismissed of failure of prosecution. O. G. Terry represented the plaintiff.

Licenses Issued

Marriage licenses have been issued in probate court to Richard Dever Roux of New Bloomington, U. S. Army, and Ercella Waneta Black of Marion, U. S. Navy; Patrick L. Nolan of Camp Cooke, Calif., student, and Ruth M. Wise of Marion.

Divorce Actions

Petitions filed—Dorothy C. Van Fossen against Albert W. Van Fossen, grounds neglect; asks alimony and support for minor child; Strelitz & Dowler, plaintiff's counsel; Elva E. Abrams against William F. Abrams, grounds neglect; asks custody and support of minor child; George T. Geran, plaintiff's attorney; Barbara Amick against Wilson Amick, grounds neglect; Edwin B. Spohn, plaintiff's attorney.

Petitions granted—Maud Ward against Eugene Ward, plaintiff granted divorce, grounds neglect; Homer E. Johnson plaintiff's attorney; Dorothy H. Fogle against Lawrence Fogle, plaintiff granted divorce, grounds neglect; Homer E. Johnson, attorney; Lowell C. Mitton against Erma Ferne Mitton, plaintiff granted divorce, grounds neglect; property settlement approved; custody of minor child awarded to plaintiff; Frank C. Gagenheimer, plaintiff's attorney. Donithen & Michel defendant's attorneys.

Petitions dismissed—Cicero P. Thomas against Nellie Thomas, suit dismissed upon agreement of parties; George T. Geran, attorney; Zelda M. Cramer against Ora L. Cramer, action dismissed on motion of the plaintiff; George T. Geran, attorney.

ASHLEY CLUBS MEET

ASHLEY—Mrs. E. R. Tilton was hostess to the Ashley East End club Friday with Mrs. V. S. Westbrook as co-hostess. The president, Mrs. Earl Jenkins and Mrs. C. H. Bell gave readings. Mrs. L. B. Carlisle and Mrs. John Hanover won contests. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Johnson of New Washington, Mrs. Glen Longwell of Steubenville and Mrs. Gwendolen McDowell.

Return of Gridders Lifts Presidents' Cage Prospects

Coach Bohyer Welcomes England, Holliday, Lee and Weber to Early Court Workouts at Edison.

By BILL COULTER

Since the close of the football season at Harding High Friday night several of the Prexy gridders have exchanged their heavy grid togs in exchange for basketball apparel. Coach Dewey Bohyer says that with the arrival of the football boys he hopes to be able to develop a clever team for the 1945-46 season.

Among those gridders who reported for practice at the Edison gym last night were Bill England, Dick Holliday, Don Lee and Ralph Weber who were some of the main guys on the Presidents' quintet last season. In addition to these several new faces appeared and Bohyer hopes to get them all in condition for the season opener November 28 at Delaware.

Mr. Bohyer states the prospects look very good for a Junior varsity team on which he will place many sophomores in order to give them valuable experience. Many of the hopeful lads just out from football are sophomores and a year on the junior varsity squad will help to make them into varsity material by next year.

Two more games have recently been added to the Prexy schedule now bringing it up to a total of thirteen. The newest additions to the foe list are Akron Ellet at the Edison gym on Feb. 2 and Kenton at the opponent's gymnasium on Feb. 22. This game is not certain as yet but Bohyer says the deal is almost clinched.

132-POINTER PACING GRIDIRON SCORERS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—Walter Trojanowski, the University of Connecticut's star halfback, today had the nation's individual football scoring championship virtually sewed up with 132 points.

In his first season since his return from the wars the 23-year old former soldier from Bridgeport, Conn., galloped for 22 touchdowns in eight games.

Only Army's touchdown twins, Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, stood a chance of overhauling the Connecticut ace and it was a remote possibility. Davis and Blanchard have racked up 96 points apiece and have only the Navy contest Dec. 1 to make up the 36 points difference. Davis was the nation's top scorer last year with 120 points.

$150,000 Winner In 1937 Irish Stakes Flat Broke Today

Associated Press Newsfeatures

BALTIMORE—Eight years ago Frank Feinberg of Winchester, Va., won $150,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes—today he lies in a Baltimore hospital, parts of both legs gone, and penniless.

"I hit the jackpot once," says Feinberg, "but it's all gone now . . . gone for doctors and medicine and operations."

Feinberg, a 66-year-old bachelor, was a clerk in a store at Farmville, Va., that great day in 1937 when Midday Sun, a dark horse, came through in the Sweepstakes and brought him the $150,000. He said he netted only about $75,000 after taxes and he gave a lot to charity.

"No, I ain't excited," Feinberg said at that time. "I ain't excited. God was with me."

After he received his money, Feinberg bought a store in Winchester. Then he lost his right leg due to an infection in the toe. Last week his left leg was amputated at Baltimore's Sinai Hospital.

"Now my friends are going to take care of me," says Feinberg. "They'll see that I get in a convalescent home at Winchester. My money . . . It's gone now, all gone."

The General Court of Massachusetts named Fairbanks Tavern in Boston as the first post office in the new world Nov. 5, 1639.

Richwood Faces Tough Season

Union County Cagers, with Four Regulars Lost, To Play Two-League Schedule.

Basketball prospects at Richwood are only fair this year, according to school athletic officials, here. Four regulars from last year's fine team are gone. Nick Wall, John Cheney and Bud Brown are returning varsity lettermen. Also Tucker Smith, Paul Snowden, Berwin Adams and John Wiley, who have all had some varsity experience, are back.

These boys are being pushed for varsity team places by Les Wall, Don Wood, Vic Lyons, Bill Taylor, Wilton McElroy, Max Cowgill and Carl Norris from last year's freshman and reserve teams. In all 35 boys reported to Coach Fetter for basketball practice but this number has been reduced, so that the better players can receive more attention and time.

This year's schedule is the toughest one ever attempted by a Richwood team, so the won-lost record probably will not be too good. Fetter hopes that by tournament time a group of these boys will develop into a fine team and that their record at that time will offset the earlier losses.

O. S. U. STAR IS BARRED

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, Nov. 20—Keo Nakama, Ohio State's famed swimmer still was barred from the exclusive Wainiki Outrigger club today—though the members apologized for excluding him. At a special meeting yesterday, the club voted to continue its oriental exclusion policy. William (Bill) Smith Jr., former Ohio Stater and world middle-distance swimming champion who is a life member of the organization, last week was refused permission to entertain Nakama at the club. Nakama, a native-born Hawaiian of Japanese extraction, won nine amateur athletic union free style and middle-distance swim titles while at Ohio State.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 — The formal announcement by eight college presidents legitimating football's "Ivy league" seems to indicate the boys are liable to trip over the ivy almost any time ... That idea of bringing competition "into harmony with the essential educational purposes" hardly would come from an athletic director who has to fill those seats in the stadium every Saturday ... The same goes for the ban on "sectional or other championships." .. As for the eligibility rules, to be governed by "wise and flexible administration in the setting of mutual respect and good faith," the Ivy schools are pretty sound in that respect, although the result sometimes is to make the football coach work overtime to see that the boys qualify for scholarships or jobs. He can't go out and tell a prospect just what he has to offer.

• • •

One Viewpoint

An interesting angle on the league was provided a few weeks ago when Columbia's Lou Little was expounding his views on building up the circuit. It is a good thing for football in the east and probably all over the country to have the 'Ivy league' as strong as possible," said Lou. "Nobody should try to come down to the level of the rest but we should all try to build up to the level of the strongest team."

Wonder which direction the move will be now that the Ivy league has gone formal?

• • •

Fruits of Victory

Bill Meyer, who'll manage the Kansas City Blues for the Yankees next season, came up with this explanation of why he left his farm at Powell, Tenn., to move to Knoxville: "I dodged tomatoes and fruit all season in Newark and I don't want to see any more."

AKRON BOY WINS

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Nov. 20 — Displaying complete mastery in every round, whirlwind George Kochan, 172-pound heavyweight from Akron, O., knocked out Reedy Evans, 166, of Chicago, in the fifth stanza of the scheduled 10-round main event last night.

Widdoes Says He'll Worry Over Michigan, Not Purdue

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Nov. 20—Ohio State's Buckeyes are playing their game for all time and will be concerned only with beating Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday—not worrying over the outcome of the Purdue-Indiana tussle at Bloomington that same afternoon.

That was Coach Carl Widdoes' view today.

But the safe bet the Buckeye gridiron mentor at least rocked the public address system in Michigan's stadium during the week.

For if both the Bucks and Purdue win, Ohio State will have its second straight Western conference title. An Indiana victory will give the Hoosiers the crown. Michigan can cop the title, too, if Indiana loses and the Wolverines win.

Can't Worry Too Much

"There's plenty ringing on both games," says Widdoes, "but we can't worry about what they're doing at Bloomington. We'll have enough to do of our own."

The Purdue-Indiana game, because of its long intrastate rivalry, may hold equal interest with the Buckeye - Wolverine clash.

Indiana held a defensive drill against the passing attack of Purdue, featured by the Boilermaker sharpshooter, Bob Dove. Coach Bo McMillin also had his squad sharpen up its tackling.

Purdue had a virtual holiday. Coach Cecil Isbell and his aides mapped strategy for the Indiana game.

Michigan's players watched motion pictures of Saturday's victory over Purdue while Fritz Crisler and his aides studied scouting reports of the Ohio State offense and defense. The Buckeyes, meanwhile, held a tough two-minute defensive drill against Michigan plays.

At Other Camps

Elsewhere around the Big Ten grids:

Illinois, preparing for its traditional game against Northwestern, held a light drill with seven players including four regulars, benched with injuries. Northwestern had six backs benched, including quarterback Otto Graham with an ankle fracture. Wisconsin worked on its passing game in preparation for Minnesota, while the Gophers took things easy . . . Notre Dame ended a light limbering up drill to get in shape for Tulane.

LEADERS CLOSE IN BIG 10 STATISTICS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 20—Statistics probably will be tossed to the winds when Michigan meets Ohio State and Indiana and Purdue clash Saturday in a pair of melees from which will emerge the 1945 Western conference football champion.

However, official team statistics released today by the conference show just how closely matched in almost every department these opponents are.

For example, unbeaten Indiana leads in average points scored per game, 25.4, while Purdue is second with an average of 23. Ohio State has 21.7 and Michigan 19.8.

Defensively, however, Michigan is tops, having allowed but 6.6 points per game, to 9.66 by the Buckeyes. Indiana is ahead of Purdue, with a 6.8 points average to 14.6 for the Boilermakers.

But while the Buckeyes are trailing Michigan defensively, they're far ahead with their ground attack, leading the league with an average of 226 yards per game. Michigan's average is 200. Indiana is in second place with 207 and Purdue with 204.

ARMY IN NO. 1 SPOT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 — Army's 61-0 romp over Penn convinced all the grid writers, except two, that the Cadets are the number one college football team in the nation. The two dissenters of the 83 scribes participating in The Associated Press weekly poll liked Alabama and the University of California at Los Angeles.

MARKET SHOWS UNEVEN TREND

Motors Suffer from Selling, But Selected Issues Pile Up Gains on Street.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—Buying of specialties again dominated today's stock market while many pivotals slipped or met difficulty attracting attention.

A few sugars, amusements, coppers and rails edged forward after a quiet opening. Dealers picked up at intervals but trended long to a point either way from the direction in count near the fourth hour.

Demand continued to center on issues with good dividend and earnings possibilities.

At peaks for the year or longer were St. Paul Railway common and preferred Warner Bros., Allegheny and Kennecott. Ahead most of the time were Roan Antelope, F. Jardo Sugar, West Indies Sugar, Loew's, R-K-O., Southern Pacific, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, Goodyear and American Smelting. Backward were Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, Western Union "A," Standard Gas $4 preferred, Union Carbide and Philips Dodge.

OHIO GIRL KILLED

By The Associated Press

ELYRIA, O., Nov. 20—Fifteen-year-old Joan McGinley was killed and Gilda Schultz, 18, was injured late last night when the car in which they were riding skidded off a curve near here and overturned.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that sluggish kidneys need attention.

Help kidneys as Nature's relief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. Then poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes is the way to tell you something is wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE

The undersigned, Iva A. Miller, Hazel Rutherford, and Helen Louise Ross will receive sealed bids at the Nevada Deposit Bank, Nevada, Ohio, for the sale of the real estate hereinafter described until 2:00 p. m. on Saturday, November 24, 1945; the real estate being sold belonged in part to Charles P. Miller, prior to his decease, and in part to the undersigned Iva A. Miller, and is described as follows:

Situated in the County of Crawford, State of Ohio, and in the Township of Ted, and described as follows:

Known as the west half (½) of the southwest quarter (¼) of Section Twenty-five (25), in Township Two (2) south, Range Fifteen (15) east, always excepting and reserving One (1) acre of land out of the west side of said west half (½) for a graveyard or burying ground, and containing, less said exception, 79 acres, more or less.

Also about 18.5 acres out of the south part of the west half (½) of the northwest quarter (¼) of said Section Twenty-five (25), Township Two (2) south, Range Fifteen (15) east.

Said real estate will be accurately described by metes and bounds in the deed hereinafter referred to.

The aforesaid described real estate consists of 97 acres, more or less, and is situated just south of the Village of Oceola, Crawford County, Ohio.

On said date, and at said time, at said bank, the undersigned will open or cause to be opened all sealed bids, and all those who have submitted sealed bids can be present when the bids are opened, and the highest bid announced, and any bidder or bidders shall have the right to raise his or their respective bid or bids and continue to do so until the highest and best bid shall be ascertained.

The real estate being offered for sale is nearly all farmable real estate, and the buildings and fences are in fair condition, and in general, the farm is well improved. The undersigned will pay all taxes for the year 1945, and will deliver possession within a reasonable time after sale shall consummated, and deed containing general covenants of warranty delivered.

Said sale shall be made for cash to the successful bidder on the date given above. Further information will be given as to possession, taxes, crops, etc., at the time of opening said bids, or inquiry can be made as to any matters in connection with said sale of Attorneys Hall & Naus, Upper Sandusky, Ohio. Bids may be left at the Nevada Deposit Bank for the undersigned, or can be left with any of the undersigned.

The undersigned reserve the right to accept or reject any and all bids received.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I HAD expected Georges to be astonished when I intimated that I knew what had become of the papers with Olga's code notes to her son Pietro on them, and which he unaccountably had lost, but I did not expect the look of absolute horror which spread over his face.

"You mean," he said, "that I dropped them in my bedroom, and that Her Majesty found them, and knows how criminally careless I have been.

Abjectly Contrite

He could not have been more abjectly contrite if Olga had been back on her throne, and he a courtier who had earned her disfavor, and I hastened to relieve his fear.

"No, no," I said. "Olga knows nothing of the loss."

"Thank Heaven for that, at least," he intoned fervently. "But"—he shot a keen look at me—"you must know something important about those papers."

"I am sure I know where they are," I told him quietly, and his hand grasped my shoulder.

"Take care!" I whispered. "Gus is watching you."

He dropped his hand quickly.

Another Question

"Thank you," he muttered, then anxiously: "Are you sure?"

"I shall be, in another minute," I told him. "Tell me, how many sheets of paper did you lose?"

"Four."

"Were they sheets of ordinary writing paper or did they have anything distinctive about them?"

"They were ordinary tablet paper," he said, "but, yes, I do remember there was a red line at the top of each, also. I don't know."

"Then," I said smiling at him, "you will have your papers back in a very short time. They are at present locked in my desk in my apartment."

Breathless Query

"But where, where, did you find them?" And are all four sheets safe?" he queried breathlessly.

"All four sheets are safe," I replied. "I counted them automatically when I picked them up from the floor of the boys' bathroom."

I averted my eyes quickly from his burning face, for I saw that he was remembering the powder and lotion spilled in the bathroom, and the reason for their spilling, his successful attempt to remove from his cheek the traces of Mary's resounding slap. But his cup of humiliation was not running over, for he had no idea that I knew anything of the slap Mary had given him when he had attempted to kiss her without her permission.

Rallied Quickly

He rallied quickly, however, and put on a very good act.

"How in the world did I ever come to drop them in there?" he wondered. "And, having dropped them, have failed to miss them?"

I wanted to tell him that he had been absorbed in fixing up his face. But aloud I only uttered a worn-out cliche.

"This time, 'all's well that ends well,'" I said. "And now, shall we go down to my apartment and get the papers?"

He hesitated oddly.

"Your father didn't think I'd find them so soon," he said. "Don't you think I might steal a few minutes more with Olina?"

New York To Get French Monument

By International News Service

PARIS—Subscriptions are being sold in Paris today to pay for a one hundred foot bronze monument which will be presented to New York by the people of this city in gratitude for liberation.

The statue is the work of the sculptor, Jean Boucher and the architect, Bankowsky. Constructed in France, it will be shipped to the United States this month and raised in New York City with French labor. Its exact location is not yet decided.

The monument is actually in the form of two statues, both in bronze, measuring nearly one hunded feet high and thirty-five feet thick. The Franco-American Peace Committee is circulating subscriptions to pay for it.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Cardiac Asthma

Cardiac asthma is a term applied to attacks of shortness of breath which, as a rule, occur at night in older persons. Such attacks are a danger sign which should not be neglected since they indicate that the left side of the heart is being overworked.

It is thought that the shortness of breath is caused by congestion in the lungs which, in severe cases, may be followed by edema or collection of fluid in the lungs.

Cardiac asthma is most often found in persons with heart disease due to high blood pressure, but it may also occur in cases of heart trouble due to damage of the coronary arteries, which are the arteries that supply the heart muscle with blood. In rare instances, it may develop in rheumatic heart disease.

When cardiac asthma occurs, the patient must immediately be given the proper treatment in order to prevent serious effects. The patient usually is awakened from sleep by the shortness of breath, which condition gets progressively worse. He is gasping for breath, sweating, and extremely anxious.

The lungs may be filled with rales, which are abnormal sounds produced by the passage of air through the fluid-containing air passages. Sometimes the patient may cough up bloody material.

In treating this condition, the patient should be placed upright in bed, preferably leaning forward onto a bed table. He should be supported by pillows behind his back and under the knees. Sedative drugs, such as morphine, are frequently necessary but, of course, these must be given by the physician who will decide just what drug is needed and in what amount.

Another drug, known as atropine, is often given with the morphine since it tends to relax the spasm of the bronchi, or small tubes in the lungs, and aid in drying up the excessive secretions in the lungs.

Oxygen is of great value in treating patients with cardiac asthma. For this reason, it may be necessary to take the patient to the hospital. In some instances, depending on the cause of the trouble, the giving of the drug, known as digitalis may be useful, since it slows and strengthens the heart-beat.

Another drug, known as aminophylline, may be useful in some instances. But how when, and what kind of drugs are taken should always be under the guidance of the doctor.

After the attack of shortness of breath disappears, the patient should have a long period of rest in bed. He should be instructed to sleep propped up. As the condition improves, limited activities may be permitted. However, before resuming activity, it is necessary to make certain that the patient gets about an hour's rest in the middle of the day and that his hours of work are short. It might be well to have him spend one day a week at home. He should not be permitted to eat too much.

Cardiac asthma is a danger sign of threatening heart failure and requires careful control if life is to be prolonged and, with proper care, it often can be.

Koreans Hold to Fairy Tales, Despite Press of World War

By HAL BOYLE
AP Feature Writer

SEOUL, Korea, Nov 20—In this 'Land of The Morning Calm' you have to stay up all night on New Year's Eve or your eyebrows will turn gray That, at least, is one of many popular beliefs

Korea, waiting impatiently to possess all of unwelcome cats essay modern statehood whenever the Russian and American troops depart, still leans heavily on her antiquity

Hal Boyle

During 40 years of Japanese occupation and industrialization, the country has been westernized to a degree, but education has been limited to a small segment of the population In the rural areas literally millions of illiterates still adhere to the old customs, fables and foibles

The women of each household have an inner 'then room' which no male is allowed to enter.

The luckiest day of the year is July 7, because it's the seventh day of the seventh

Girls pray to the stars and Vega to make them good skillful so they will not lose their husbands

'I'm Not Here'

When someone calls at your door must stand outside and below. Tell the maid that so-and-so is calling

If you don't like the guy or he bores you, yawn and raise your voice as if addressing your imaginary servant. Then bellow back Tell him the master's not at

The visitor gets the idea and scrams

Another visiting custom is that no gentleman steps inside the house to visit your wife unless you, the master of the house, are there to keep an eye on him

Also, when someone calls on you the first time he is required by custom to start right off by telling his full name, age, occupation and style of living

Many a bridegroom, still sweats his wedding oath at the bride's home in front of a wooden carving of a wild goose, brought by [illegible] Then the bride goes to [illegible] on a palanquin [illegible] parents, and [illegible] before the ancestral table

Help Mother-in-Law

The bridegroom takes her back to his house and spends three days there before bringing her to his own home. There they stay a month or two helping Ma [illegible] bride then deals the matter of her mother-in-law's housework

When someone dies, an announcer climbs to the roof of the house and wails the details of the departed to make public mourning. Women mourners are hired for the funeral. Wives are allowed in the room where the body is kept.

The funeral services are elaborate and expensive. The pallbearers are paid to carry out the coffin when they carry the coffin to the grave.

Many villagers believe a spirit they call Chansun has the power to drive away demons The set up wooden images along the roadside to tickle Chansun's vanity and to persuade him to drive all evil spirits into the next township, which in turn has put up some images of its own.

Instead of going to the movies, little Korean boys amuse themselves with tops and kites, while little girls bounce up and down on teeter-totters made by placing a board across an upjutting rock

June 15 is Korea's 'Nuts to the World" day On that date the men go out into the woods, drink wine and write poems while bathing their feet in running streams

Report Milk Profit At Under 1/3 Cent a Quart

By International News Service

NEW YORK—Profits of milk companies have been less than one-third of a cent a quart, according to an Indiana University Bureau of Business Research nation-wide study of milk distribution costs

The cost of raw milk delivered to the plant along with the wages and salaries of workers took nearly 82 cents of each sales dollar.

Expenditures for plant, delivery, and office supplies and services required 7 28 cents of each dollar of sales, while taxes, insurance and depreciation accounted for 5 96 cents of each dollar received by the milk distributors

Bottles and other containers cost 3 22 cents for each dollar of product sold. Operating cost totaled 98 02 cents, leaving an operating profit of 1 98 cents for each dollar of sales.

The study, made for the Milk Industry Foundation, was based on reports direct to the bureau from 244 companies in major cities throughout the country with sales in excess of $583,000,000 in 1944

The Indiana university cost study was made following a national poll of consumer opinion by the Opinion Research organization which showed 43 per cent of the consumers think distributors make from 3 cents to 9 cents a quart profit.

Ohio's Radio 'Hams' Yell for Chance To Buy Air Force Junk

By The Associated Press

DAYTON O, Nov 20— Ham' radio operators from Dayton and the Miami valley area today criticized the Army's announced policy of junking 'millions of dollars' worth of radio and radar equipment and asked for a crack at buying some of the discarded gear"

Major Gen Hugh J. Knerr commanding general of the Army's Air Technical Training Service command, disclosed at Wright field yesterday that "millions of dollars' worth of the equipment had been placed in an open field here and said much of it had been damaged by weather

The general reported the equipment included radio sets once worth $1,000 which wouldn't bring over 50 cents as scrap in their present state

Bromfield C. of C. Speaker Here

money as wealth and move toward barter, recognizing our resources as the only thing of real value

"In Germany after the first World war it took millions of marks to buy a newspaper The German money eventually lost all its value and the only trade was by barter The money was worthless but land, forests and mineral deposits held their value

Mr Bromfield declared America was a rich and important nation only because as a nation it possesses rich lands great forests and mineral deposits

Compares U. S and Russia

He drew a comparison with Russia which, as a nation, is potentially great and powerful because of untouched resources, not because of a powerful army and navy because she has neither

Mr. Bromfield declared America need have no fear of Russia for many years to come because the Soviet Union can not afford a war "The Russians will not be able to afford a war until they have time to harness their great resources and develop their industry," he said

"The Russians are a shrewd people," he added "They understand the importance of national wealth and the need for preserving it

"They also understand the need for a strong agriculture to provide a market at home for their expanding industry"

He attributed Russia's moves in the Balkans, the Baltic states and other neighboring regions as a means of developing a market area With these areas under her control she can build a strong economy even if she does not trade with the outside world, he declared.

Britain's Day Over

Mr Bromfield predicted that Great Britain never would regain her position of world dominance The days of great empires are over, he said.

He based his opinion on the theory that it is no longer possible to defend far-flung empires and the fact that within the borders of England there is very little real wealth.

"England is a processing and banking nation To maintain her former position she must control the sources of the raw materials converted into finished goods at home as well as the transportation lines and the markets where the goods eventually will be sold

"This is becoming increasingly more difficult to do and today we find Canada and Australia more closely tied to America than to England.

"Indian cotton mills are turning out goods with cheap labor England cannot compete with

"England's only real wealth is in coal and agriculture and the latter is negligible because in peace time the country can feed no more than 35 per cent of the population"

"The world of the future, he said "will belong to great geographical areas and not to individual countries"

U. S. Now At Peak

America's power is probably at its peak, due largely to the rapid dissipation of natural resources by both agriculture and industry, he said In 100 years no country has used up its resources as fast as America

"Today in Baltimore great steel mills are rising to use ore imported from other lands. In war time our forests were being cut five times as fast as they could be replaced The nine inches of top soil that once spread over the fertile lands of the agricultural areas has been reduced to an average of six inches.

"It is shocking the way our resources have been used up This destruction strikes at the very roots of our economy"

Mr Bromfield criticized farmer subsidies and so-called parity prices as a great detriment to sound agriculture "They solve nothing and serve only to increase taxes which destroy the capital that provides industrial employment.

"Such a system can lead only to a totalitarian government, which means the end of all freedom of labor unions and their right to bargain collectively and of free enterprise

Basis of Sound Farming

"Sound agriculture must be based on high production and low costs Subsidies bring the exact opposite — low production and high costs"

Citing the decreased production in the nations corn belt, Mr Bromfield declared that on the average the nation's farms are producing on five acres what should be produced on one area "This means high production costs and high cost of food"

Mr Bromfield's address was broadcast over station WMRN.

Harvey T Gracely, vice president of the Marion Steam Shovel Co presided as toastmaster

A number of visitors and officers of the Chamber of Commerce were presented. In recognition of agriculture's part in the Marion county community life Mr and Mrs Gordon Eichhorn were introduced Mr Eichhorn, young Marion county farmer, recently was elected Star Farmer of America by the Future Farmers of America. As a symbolic greeting to all Marion county returned veterans Mr Gracely introduced Robert Vance and Mrs Vance.

Officers Introduced

Mr and Mrs Maynard E Montrose and Harold J. Grigsby were presented to the audience, Mr Montrose as president of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and Mr Grigsby as a past president of the Chamber of Commerce and newly elected executive vice president and general manager of the Marion Reserve Power Co.

Officers of the Chamber introduced were the newly elected board of directors, retiring president Henry J Kirgbaum, past president Frank Foster vice presidents Robert T Mason and Alfred Donithen, and the newly elected president, Robert E White

Mr White announced a list of committee chairmen who will serve in 1946

The annual report of the Chamber of Commerce listing its achievements of the last year, was distributed

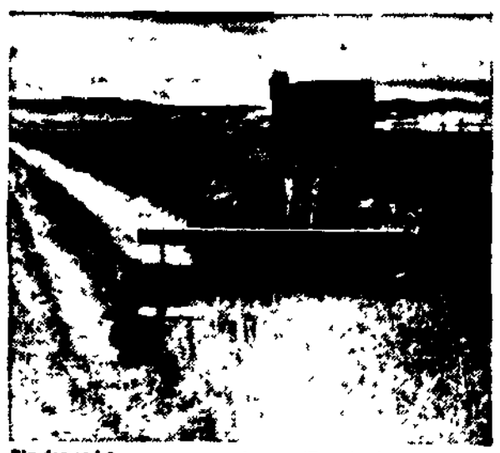
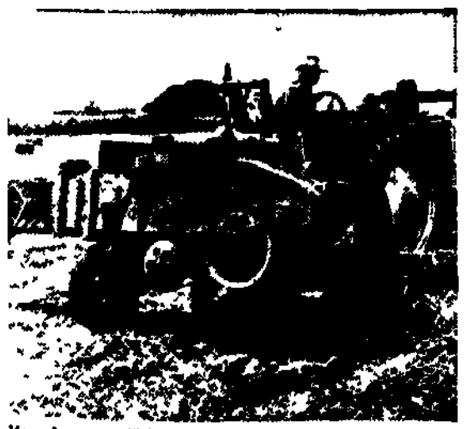
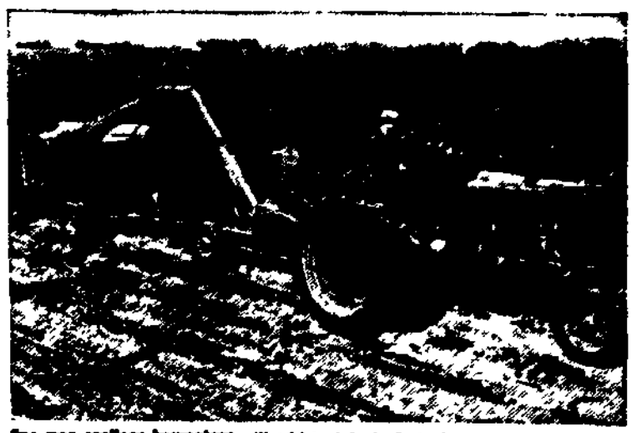
Needed: $1,000,000 worth of equipment in every farm county! Jobs!



Big demand for one man combines will make factory jobs.



Many farmers will buy one-man hay balers More jobs!



One-man ensilage harvesters will add to jobs in factories.

Making Postwar Jobs—With Farm Equipment

How many jobs will there be for men and women released from military service—and from war industry? No one can say, exactly. But this much we know: Business management, in scores of industries, has long since laid plans to meet at once the tremendous, pent-up demand for goods of all kinds—and to introduce new products and services that will make jobs by the thousands by creating new demands.

Take the farm-equipment industry. Right now, there is a critical demand for standard farm implements of all kinds. Many a million dollars' worth of equipment is needed in every farm county! Making this equipment will make jobs for thousands, in mines, mills, and factories.

And a great new force for job-making is in the new developments by farm-equipment manufacturers. Among these developments are new ensilage harvesters that cut standing corn and make it ready for ensiling in one simple operation. New combines that harvest and thresh wheat without backbreaking toil. New machines that pick corn, pick up and bale hay, dig and pick up sugar beets. Machines that not only mean easier, better, more diversified, more productive farming—but also new jobs in industry.

The farm-implement industry is but one of many along the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Nickel Plate, and Pere Marquette, that are going full speed ahead putting their plans into operation, now that Victory has been won.

A LUNCHEON was followed by a program when the Auxiliary of the Marion Academy of Medicine met Saturday at Hotel Harding. Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer, vice president, presided and the program included a talk on "Art, Old Masters and the New," by Mrs. C. J. Altmaier. The talk was illustrated with slides. Plans were made for a Christmas party and exchange at the next meeting, Dec. 15 when Mrs. Sawyer will be hostess.

MR. AND MRS. MARION CHENEY are chairmen of the host and hostess committee for the dance to be given Wednesday evening by the Nine to Twelve Dance club. The members will dance at Schwinger's Dancetand with music by Dick Zann and his orchestra. Serving on the committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwemley, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Baldauf, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Mattes, Mr. and Mrs. George Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhill and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newell.

THE 50th anniversary of the organization of the Woman's club will be observed by the members Monday evening when they entertain at an open house at the Federation Home on East Center street. They will receive their guests between 7:30 and 10 o'clock. The anniversary will also be observed Monday afternoon when the club members will present a radio program at 3 p. m. over Station WMRN. Plans for these events were completed when the members met yesterday afternoon with Miss Florence Durfee on South Main street. The topic of the roll call was "Scientists of 50 years ago." Mrs. Roy Hensel presented a paper on "Communism."

Mr. and Mrs. George Starbuck of Bellefontaine are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Titus, to Lt. Guy T. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin V. Lewis of 565 Park street, which took place Thursday, Nov. 15. Dr. S. M. Ingmire, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, read the ceremony at 6:45 o'clock in the evening at the parsonage on East Center street. Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hero were the attendants.

The bride wore a two-piece biege suit with brown accessories and her flowers were a corsage of yellow rosebuds and pompons. Mrs. Hero wore a two-piece black costume with black accessories. Her flowers were red rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lewis were hosts at a wedding dinner at their home following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Other tables arranged for the guests, held red roses. Assisting were Mrs. Dorothy Whaley and Mrs. Rose Hufford.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Starbuck, Mr. and Mrs. James Caldwell of Bellefontaine, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Shetterley, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Corrigan, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hero, Mrs. Belle Bufford, Mrs. Dell Mullee, Miss Norma Jean Eddy, Frank Gast and Earl Shetterley.

Lt. Lewis recently returned from Okinawa and prior to that he had served 32 months in the Caribbean area.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over pink and white, and the centerpiece was a miniature bride and bridegroom. The couple will take trips to points south where they expect to visit a sister of the bride and the family in Florida. When they return they will make their home at 161 North Sutter avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Watrous was hostess for a meeting of Le Mercure club last evening at her home on East Center street. Mrs. Richard Eicher, vice president, was in charge of a business session when Mrs. Richard Isaly reported on a sale of articles made by the blind of the state and Miss Watrous gave a critic's report. Mrs. George A. Howser was in charge of a program on the topic, "Right About Face, Are You?" Plans were made to send a Christmas box to a French refugee family, and for a Christmas dinner party Dec. 17 at Detrick's Inn.

Mrs. Fred Slob of 698 Darius street entertained recently with a party honoring the fourth birthday of her daughter, Jerry Lee. Contest prizes were awarded to Joyce Huffman, Pauline Toombs, Bonny Kay Newlove, Ruth Bayles and Loretta McCartney. Among the gifts received by the celebrant was a large birthday cake presented by an aunt, Mrs. Cecil Noble. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Noble, Mrs. George Holt, Mrs. Ruth Toombs, Mrs. Fred Heard, Misses Alice Slob, Barbara Larson and Pauline Toombs.

Mrs. Paul Drollinger was chosen president and Mrs. Paul Virden was named reporter at an election of the Week-end club held Sunday night at a 6 o'clock potluck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lehner on Harding Highway East. The evening was spent playing pinochle and Ralph Coberly and Mrs. Virden won high honors. The group will meet Dec. 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coberly on Chestnut street.

Mrs. Vincent R. Clement was hostess to the Pastime club Thursday evening at her home on South Main street. The evening was spent socially and with games and contests. Refreshments were served from tables decorated in keeping with the season. Guests were Mrs. Howard Schwaderer and daughter, Ruth and Mrs. Velma Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Alexander of 1275 East Center street entertained a group of boys and girls Saturday with a party in honor of the sixth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Debby. Games were played by the group and refreshments were served by Mrs. Alexander.

Mrs. Martha Wise was hostess for a meeting of the Eclipse Euchre club Friday evening at her home at 740 Indiana avenue. An award for high score was won by Mrs. Lillian Clark and Mrs. Louise Griffith was consoled. Mrs. Virginia Merchant received a floating prize.

O.E.S. MEETING

When Lydia Chapter No. 83, O.E.S., met last night the charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Sadie Kiehl and for Charles Mooney. A class was initiated and a social hour followed. Mrs. Ruth Carhart, worthy matron, and Albert Firestone, worthy patron, gave their farewell. Installation of recently elected officers will be held Dec. 3, it was announced.

Bolivia's president is not eligible for immediate reelection after his term of four years.

'Hobo' Party Held in Camp Scene by Sorority Chapter

MEMBERS of Beta chapter, Gradale sorority, turned knights of the road and the woman's clubrooms at the Y.M.C.A. were transformed into a "camp" for a hobo party held by the members last evening. Arriving in costume the members found posters on the wall revealing "rules" to be followed for the evening.

Cornshocks throughout the room provided a setting for the improvised "bonfire" around which the group gathered to eat box lunches auctioned by Miss Ruth Davis auctioneer. Singing was followed by cootie and dancing. An award for the funniest costume was won by Mrs. Eunice Kellogg and in cootie the prizes were won by Miss Eleanor Gandert and Miss Virginia Fetter.

Arrangements were in charge of a committee composed of Mrs. Charlene Rice, Mrs. Judy Phelps, Mrs. Dolores Shenefield, Mrs. Florence Weston and Miss Alice Malu.

Club Honors Couples Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fetter and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mautz who celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries recently were honored when the San Souci club entertained with a dinner Sunday at St. Paul's parish house south of Marion. Families of the honored guests and club members were guests and covers were placed for 35 at tables decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and lighted with yellow tapers in crystal holders. The flowers were gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Fetter.

A program included vocal duets by Russell Fett and Nancy Creasap by Mrs. John Creasap and Mrs. and Shirley Fett, and a song, "I Love You Truly," by Francis Fairchild," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fairchild. Mr. and Mrs. Fetter were the bride and bridegroom in a mock wedding and the attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Mautz. A. U. Click acted as the officiating minister and Mrs. Francis Fairchild played the wedding marches. Marilyn Mack sang a solo, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. LeRoy Mack. Gifts were presented to the honor guests by Marilyn Mack and Jean Click.

Mrs. Fetter is a member of the club and Mrs. Mautz is the mother of Mrs. LeRoy Mack, a member of the club.

Hustlers Club Meets Near New Bloomington

Mrs. Emma Schaber of northeast of New Bloomington was hostess for a meeting of the Big Island Hustlers club Wednesday afternoon. Group singing was followed by devotions conducted by Mrs. Edna Seiter. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Belle Britton, president; Mrs. Ada Payne, vice president; Miss Virginia Schmidt, secretary; Mrs. Nellie Smith, treasurer. Plans were completed for a Christmas party Dec. 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Payne. Guests included Mrs. Donald Seiter, Sharon, Larry and Ronny Mehaffey, Mrs. Ray Schaber, Philip Schaber, Janet Tron, Marjorie and Marilyn Snare. Refreshments were served.

A 23-piece Youths' band composed of Grange members directed by Eugene Foose played several selections following the business.

Health Bill To Be Heard Soon

Quick Study, Delayed Action Seen for Truman Proposal; Reaction Varied.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—President Truman's request for a broad health and medical program received assurances today of early congressional attention but deferred action. Its points met with both approval and disapproval of the American Medical association.

Rep. Priest (D-Tenn), chairman of the house interstate health subcommittee promised hearings soon.

Senator Wagner (D-NY), who, with Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) introduced a bill to carry out the President's recommendations, predicted senate labor committee action within two months.

Most of the lawmakers told reporters they wanted to know more about it.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) commented "it is impossible to impose a federal tax-supported compulsory health insurance plan without socializing the medical profession."

Mr. Truman had said "socialized medicine means that all doctors work as employes of government. No such system is here proposed."

He urged congress consider "now" five "basic problems", among them insurance against loss of earnings because of sickness, through expansion of the present social insurance system "with appropriate adjustment of premiums."

The Journal of the American Medical association expressed approval of this point.

The AMA Journal said, however, Mr. Truman's assertion that the compulsory sickness insurance provisions do not represent socialized medicine "will not be convincing to the physicians . . . who would be compelled to submit to politically controlled medicine should such a measure ever become" law.

The Journal said the proposal to extend medical education and research through federal grants would give the government "control of medical education throughout the United States."

Mrs. Emilie Staack Dies in Columbus

Mrs. Emilie Staack, 85, a lifelong Columbus resident, mother of Edward T. Staack, a former Morse code telegraph operator of International News Service employed for several years in The Marion Star news department, died Monday at her home in Columbus. She was a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church there.

While in Marion, Mr. Staack lived at the William F. Bull residence.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the O. R. Woodyard funeral home. Rev. A. E. Klick will officiate and burial will be in Green Lawn cemetery.

States collect about $1.3 billion each year in unemployment compensation taxes.

White House Issues Summary of National Health Program

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—The White House gave out this official summary of President Truman's national health program yesterday:

The President sent to the Congress a special message proposing a five-point national health program.

The President points out that many of our citizens do not have adequate opportunity to achieve good health; millions do not have adequate protection against the economic effects of sickness. For example, there were 313 counties in the United States each with more than one thousand inhabitants in which there were no practicing physicians. About 1,200 counties, with some 15,000,000 inhabitants have either no local hospital or none that meets even the minimum standards of national professional associations.

Selective service had to reject five millions young men, or one-third of those examined. An additional three million had to be discharged or rehabilitated.

Reviews Problems

In his message, the President reviews the main problems and needs, and he submits a five-point program for legislative action—

Recommendation I. Construction of hospitals and related facilities. Federal aid should be provided for construction of hospitals, health centers and other facilities where they are needed. These are essential if doctors are to be able to furnish modern services.

Recommendation II. Expansion of public health, maternal and child health services. The existing cooperative health programs between the federal and state governments should be expanded with the help of increased federal funds. All parts of the country and all groups in the population should be able to benefit from them. Expansion is especially important to prevent disease and to provide services for mothers and children. Approximately 40,000,000 persons in the United States live in communities which still lack full-time public health services.

Recommendation III. Medical education and research. We can not remain satisfied with what we already know about health or disease. Present facilities for further health progress are very large. Research pays large dividends. Professional education should keep pace with progress. Federal grants in aid should assist and encourage research, so that we shall learn more about how to prevent and cure disease. Federal aid should also support more adequate professional education. Special emphasis should be paid to research on the cause, prevention and cure of cancer and mental illnesses.

Recommendation IV. Prepayment of medical costs. Every one should have ready access to all necessary medical, hospital and related services. The costs of essential Medical services should not stand in the way of the patient who needs care.

Compulsory System

A compulsory national health insurance system is proposed toward attaining this goal. It would be a system for prepayment of the costs through premiums which people could afford, and which are paid while they are well and working.

This is not socialized medicine. Prepayment would relieve families of worry about medical costs and would encourage them to receive care as soon as it is needed. Thus, it would work toward preventing serious disease.

Patients would remain free to choose their doctors. Doctors would remain free to accept or reject patients, hospitals would continue to manage their own services. Voluntary organizations could participate in the insurance system, either to provide services and be paid therefore, or to assist in administration, depending on their functions.

Decentralized administration would provide for needed local adjustments in fees, methods of payment and arrangements for services.

Stable Income

Doctors and hospitals could expect improvement and stability of income, at the same time that patients are relieved of unexpected and burdensome costs.

Recommendation V. Protection against loss of wages from sickness and disability. Disability insurance would protect America's families by guaranteeing some income when they are sick or permanently disabled.

The President urged the congress to consider such health legislation now. This five-point program would strengthen the nation to meet future problems. It would contribute greatly to freedom from want.

In the News Again: Railroad's No. 1 Fan

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO—Back in 1937 Mabel Dickson, 11, was very ill. Propped on a cot on her front porch, she used to smile and wave when Chicago & Eastern Illinois trains passed. Crewmen returned the greetings.

One day an engineer stopped a train, trotted to the porch and handed the child a big bouquet. Stories of the incident were published widely. Then everybody forgot about it.

Recently the railroad hired a new stenographer. A fellow employe thought there was something vaguely familiar about her, and he was right. It was Miss Dickson, 20 now and restored to health.

Britain Arranging for Atom Research

By International News Service

LONDON—An atomic research corporation, employing thousands of scientists and technicians to centralize research on atomic physics, will be set up by the British government shortly.

So important does the government consider the import of the atom on world society that a separate ministry may be organized.

The biggest industrial projects, such as atomic power stations and atomic transport fuel factories, which might be going concerns within 10 years, will be national from the start.

Sir George Thomson, F.R.S., 53-year-old chairman of the Atomic Bomb Committee, has been mentioned for the post of Scientific Director.

Atomic warfare research will be continued in full cooperation with the United States. Most likely choice for chief liaison scientist is Sir James Chadwick, discoverer of the neutron-atom splitting particle that made the bomb itself possible.

Green Camp Services Draw Large Audiences

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — Near capacity congregations attended services in the Green Camp Baptist church Sunday. Sermons were delivered by Rev. Arthur G. Annette, evangelist. In the evening a solo was sung by Miss Eleanor Jean Grant, accompanied by Miss Louise Lotz. Lieut. and Mrs. Henry Seifert of the Air Service Command, Marion, sang a duet.

The revival will close next Sunday night with a service commencing at 7:30. Services will be held each night this week, excepting Saturday at 7:45.

• • •

Church night was observed Friday by the Green Camp Methodist congregation. Taking part in the program were Esther and Marilyn Lindley who sang a musical reading by Mrs. Nina Ruth Hedges, a reading by Mrs. Claude Eckley; solo, Arlan Hedges, magic tricks, Rev. F. Melvin Wentz.

In a Class by Itself

AS NEARLY as any layman can understand what is implied in Admiral Nimitz's testimony on Army-Navy unification, the point seems to be that sea power is so vital to American defense that it stands in a class by itself. It cannot be included in plans for coordinating the nation's fighting services on a permanent basis because it cannot be thought of as co-equal with land power and air power. Rather, it is above them and therefore must be permitted to retain its separate identity.

Obviously, Admiral Nimitz's point of view is entitled to the deepest respect, even though it represents a reversal of his former opinion that a single department of national defense was imperative. He has served his country well. It would be a dangerous thing to override the Navy's dissent from the unified defense proposal just because the Navy seems to be outnumbered. Rather, there should be an honest attempt by critics of the Navy's position to make a rebuttal.

It would be particularly interesting, for example, to hear a rebuttal by Gen. Arnold, speaking for the Air Force. In much of the thinking on future security, the aviation arm of defense has been given unique importance. It has been assigned the principal role in security under the United Nations security council. This is not to suggest that the Navy, too, is not of unique importance. But if the fighters of the air see no objection to being one of three coordinate branches of national defense, it is difficult to see why the fighters of the sea should see only the means of their service's dissolution in the proposal for unification of cabinet responsibility for national defense.

Tailor-Made for the Jobs

LT. GEN. IRA C. EAKER'S enthusiastic praise for the Women's Army Corps as he addressed the Des Moines training center's last class of officers a few days ago may check the tendency to liquidate this reserve of wartime strength willy-nilly.

As deputy commanding general of Army Air Force, Gen. Eaker learned what many other administrative officers also learned and acknowledged—that on work they have been accustomed to perform, women are more efficient than men. Therefore, they should be made available on a stand-by basis for future emergencies; there should be a reserve officers' corps for women.

The fact is that women can operate typewriters, telephone switchboards, perform secretarial duties and do office work better than most men. It was a radical departure in the late war to acknowledge this and give women a chance to perform military service, but now that the ice has been broken one thing is certain: there would be no delay in event of another war in calling on women to volunteer again, Gen. Eaker merely suggests that an officers' reserve be asked to go through the routine of making itself ready to do a good job if the time comes to do it.

Even the Legend Was Fakery

ADOLF HITLER'S shrewdly publicized character in Germany was that of a zealot denying himself a natural life for the service of his cause. Hitler was depicted to the Germans and to the world as a leader practicing spartan frugality and continence in all things, apparently because this suited Germany's desperate appetite for dictatorial control and development of a military state. The legend that was constructed by propaganda as a backdrop for the fuehrer principle was highlighted with details of the Hitler diet, personal sacrifices, disregard for money, tireless devotion to work and, of course, his bachelorhood.

The Eva Braun disclosures, reaching a climax in the discovery of at least part of the treasure Hitler bestowed on his mistress, dispose of the Hitler legend outside Germany. Perhaps they will ruin it inside Germany too, particularly if there is no refutation of the circumstantial evidence that Hitler, besides being a furtive lover, also was a furtive father. Germans know now as the world knows that virtually everything in the Hitler era either started with a false assumption or ended in a wrong conclusion. Even the legend of the leader was fakery. Hitler was a rabble rouser and parish backed by unscrupulous minorities that hoped to use him for their own purposes. Civilization owes it to itself to break down his legend before the remnants are entrusted to history.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Mr. Attlee Missed His Point on Bomb

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—Mr. Attlee did not get his way about giving the atom bomb to Russia or to a United Nations control.

Forty-four hours before the decision was announced, however, some of the best informed correspondents were writing that the commission solution had been agreed. There were, at that time, some grounds for belief that the British had induced President Truman to change his mind. The mere publication of such a suggestion brought his best advisers into action, and he stood his ground firmly.

The British prime minister, who apparently had a major hand in writing the announcement, succeeded nevertheless in composing an exceptionally interesting, if elusive text. This document which stands in the nature of a momentous world proclamation on the most important subject confronting mankind requires analytical understanding.

Indeed it may lead to breaking up the Truman policy in months or years to come unless the President remains insistent and alert.

The first point, the premise, asserts "there can be no adequate military defense" against the bomb and therefore no nation should monopolize it.

Contradiction

This assertion not only contradicts much scientific evidence, and the entire history of science which has always to date found defenses adequate for its inventions, it also contradicts other assertions of the Attlee text.

Point six maintains the spreading of information about the bomb should wait until science has found the answer. The precise words are:

"We are not convinced that the spreading of specialized information regarding the practical application of atomic energy, before it is possible to devise effective reciprocal, and enforceable safeguards acceptable to nations, would contribute to a constructive solution of the problem of the atomic bomb."

In short, point six must be persistently maintained against the premise of point one, if the Truman policy is to prevail. Mr. Truman can maintain it only if he continues to get popular support for his just and reasonable position.

Furthermore, the indications that he was ready to weaken somewhat, 24 hours in advance of the announcement, indicates a constant general alertness will be necessary to see that the decision is not undermined by anyone here or abroad.

Great Pressure

In these confused days when the pressures of great powers and events cause many men to doubt and alter their positions, this phase is essential.

There are other revealing phases of the momentous text, it says:

"We believe the fruits of scientific research should be made available to all nations."

Then it proposed a United Nations commission for the inspection of armaments (a recommendation which originated in this column at the time of the San Francisco conference, and has been repeated many times since then.)

Now if this pledge of international inspection of armaments is kept, and thoroughly applied, the giving away of military secrets will not be necessary.

Danger

To put it another way on the same thumbnail, our official and public insistence must be maintained for inspection, or the giving away of the fruits of our scientific developments will become dangerous, foolish, even suicidal.

Consider Russia in this respect. She has isolated herself. If we give her all our scientific fruits and she maintains her isolation against inspection by us and an international body, the very fact that she does such a thing casts a reasonable suspicion upon the fruit-giving as to make it worthless as a world peace move.

Now do not conclude hastily that Mr. Truman and our govern know all about these things and will take care of itself..or that the possibilities opened in this momentous text represents my imagination of a remote possibility. The wrong philosophy is already in the text, balanced by the right philosophy.

Thus the text has left us with an obligation to maintain the right part of it against misinterpretation.

Daily Bible Thought

Maybe we are fortunate not to be too successful and powerful: "But when he was strong his heart was lifted up to his destruction."—2 Chronicles 26:16.

Presidential Powers Wasted

By Walter Lippmann

IF THE President realizes how great is the danger into which he is being drawn, he shows no signs of knowing which way to turn in order to prevent it.

The ship of state is adrift upon even more perilous waters and the captain will not avert a disaster by reiterating his good intentions or by complaining that the sea is rough, the storms are violent, the rocks are many and treacherous. The fact of the matter is that there is no navigator, there is no helmsman, and the captain is not setting the course.

The trouble is at the White House in Washington, and only Mr. Truman can cure it. Whatever the United States can do about the Soviet Union, the continent of Europe, the conflict in China, the disorders of southern Asia, it can do only if the government in Washington knows how to use the influence and power of the United States.

Mr. Truman is not using the immense influence and power which was entrusted to him when he became President of the United States. He is dissipating and squandering that influence and is allowing that power to disintegrate.

Opportunity Slips Away

As the President is now conducting his administration, there is no prospect whatever of his becoming again, as he was four months ago, invested as few men in history have ever been, with the opportunity to shape events because he was the leader of a mighty and victorious people wanting above all things a decent and lasting peace.

There is no prospect, as the Truman administration is organized and conducted today, of its recovering the control of the situation. Only a radical change in the inner working of the administration can now prevent the situation, which it not under control, from becoming uncontrollable.

Mr. Truman's trouble is that neither he nor his chief cabinet officers, who conduct our foreign relations, are devoting enough of their time, their energy, or their minds to the great issues. They are all very busy men. They are too busy to think seriously and constructively about the great decisions on which hang the vital interests of their country and the fate of nations.

Lost In Detail

If this seems astonishing and unlikely, let some energetic reporter correlate the facts on these two points: In the past 90 days how many hours out of each day has the President devoted to little 15-minute interviews and conferences with a vast assortment of people? How often and for how long has he conferred with his cabinet, how often and for how long have Messrs. Byrnes, Vinson, Patterson, and Forrestal —the key men in foreign affairs —conferred with him collectively about our relations with Russia, Britain, China, Germany and Japan?

The daily diaries of the President and his four principal lieutenants would show objectively and conclusively—I have no doubt whatever—that each is caught in a daily routine of appointments, correspondence, telephone calls, which prevents any one of them from bringing in unhurried and fresh mind to bear upon the great questions.

Down below in the departments there are men who manage to find some time to think. But at the top, while there is a good deal of fret and worry, there is really no time reserved for the full consideration of high policy. They are all much too busy with everything but the main things.

Change of Habits

The President alone can cure this inner trouble of his administration, this failure to think out the great decisions because individually the top men fritter away their best energies, and collectively they do not really take counsel together at all.

The President can cure it by only a drastic alteration of his own habits of work. The foreign relations of the government cannot be conducted by any President—and certainly not by one who lacks background and experience—through spasmodic and hurried contact with his departmental chiefs separately and individually.

The cure is obvious. It is to institute a regular daily meeting, lasting as long as may be necessary to finish its business, of the President and his four chief cabinet officers concerned with foreign affairs, and to decide at that meeting, and nowhere else, all military, political and economic questions of policy. That meeting should be held every morning until the present developing crisis has been mastered.

It should have priority for the President, the secretaries of state, treasury, war and navy over all other engagements. There is nothing that they have to do, no matter who telephones for an appointment, which compares in urgency and importance with their need to make their decisions together.

Nothing less than this can begin to cure the trouble.

It would be hard to find available men who individually are more experienced or more qualified. But as the administration is now conducted they are disorganized departmental heads and not statesmen, and their time and the President's time are measured by their responsibilities, being wasted.

No other remedy is known when a state is in danger except for its leaders to sit in council until they have dealt with the danger and the emergency is over.

Parking Problem

By International News Service

BOSTON — More facilities for off-street parking is the most pressing need for New England communities in aiding business centers. Eighty-five per cent of the New England Chambers of Commerce, indicated this situation was first on their list for post-war solution in answering questionnaires sent by the Community Development Committee of the New England Council.

In 1680 Sir Isaac Newton produced a model vehicle which embodied jet-propulsion principles.

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, Nov. 20, 1935.

James L. Kirby, county administrator of old age pensions, announced that an investigator for the Marion office would be named soon.

Major General Benson Hough, native of Delaware county and federal judge of Columbus, died in his suite in a Columbus hotel.

Meeting in a Columbus hotel room Marion city officials were reported to have made their final offer of $1,550,000 as the purchase price of the Marion Water Co.

Mrs. Roy Morton was named Morow county chairman for the Will Rogers memorial fund drive in Morrow county.

Mrs. Margaret Snyder, 90, native of Waldo, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ezra Schmelzer of Bellefontaine avenue.

Admiral Earl Jellico, commander of the World war I battle of Jutland, died in London.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Nov. 20, 1925.

Alexandra, dowager Queen of Great Britain, widow of King Edward, died at her country home at Sandringham. She was 81 years old.

President Coolidge returned to Washington following a visit to New York where he addressed 1,000 leaders of "big business" and assured them he favored preventing government interference in business.

Sheriff James A. Deal announced a turkey dinner would be served to prisoners in the Marion county jail Thanksgiving day.

Standings in the N.C.O. football league placed Norris, Bucyrus quarterback, as leading scorer with a 45-point total. McWhorter, Marion halfback, was third with 33 points.

Miss Leah Doan and Bonita Doyle were hostesses to the Junior Inter Nos of Harding High school at the Doan home on Windsor street.

Another Tokio

By The United Press

TOKIO, Tex.—Stacks of mail bags that piled up here daily during the war bearing inquiries about this little town, namesake of Japan's capital city, will diminish as peace years roll on.

But Postmaster Dellis E. Green and his wife, Mrs. Ara Green, will never forget the somewhat questionable fame brought to their little town during the war. Thousands wrote wanting to know what Tokio, Tex., was like and source of its name. Nearly 1,000 such letters deluged the little postoffice after V-J day.

Located in Terry county 60 miles southwest of Lubbock and 20 miles from Brownfield, home of the nearest doctor, this is a little agricultural spot of 200 persons with sorghums, corn, hay, wheat and barley. Also doing well are the dairy industry, beef cattle, sheep, good soil and crops of cotton, grain, hogs and horses raised for market.

To answer the numerous questions about the town, Mrs. Green probed archives for the history of Tokio, Tex.

"Tokio," she said, "is a peaceful town with one cotton gin and two churches, Baptist and Nazarene." She discovered that a now deceased Mrs. Ware settled in the community 36 years ago and felt the need of a postoffice, so she started handling the mail.

The postmaster general wrote Mrs. Ware requesting a name for her postoffice. Mrs. Ware suggested two names, one of which was Tokio. She selected the name of Tokio to connote the remoteness of the little community she was living in.

Jurisdictional Disputes

By Raymond Moley

THE labor - management - government controversy is digging carefully into jurisdictional disputes—an ever-increasing cause of interrupted production and a threat to the very existence of sound unionism.

The AFL has always been threatened with atomization by these intra-union rows. Samuel Gompers used to warn the international unions of this menace in most passionate terms. Speaking in Chicago in 1922 of serious trouble which had broken out in the building trades, Gompers said, "The federation is a rope of sand."

Jurisdictional differences are characteristic of trade - union, rather than industrial-union organization. Hence, they are the greater threat to the AFL. But the CIO has not been immune from this evil, although its rapid pace of organization in hitherto unorganized industries has spared it somewhat. But as its growth has proceeded, it has more and more frequently been running into some of its own older branches or into AFL unions.

Starting Place

Most jurisdictional quarrels originate with the business agents of local unions. One of the most famous of jurisdictional wars, lasting 20 years or more, was the claim of the Teamsters and Truck Drivers Union (formerly called the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers of North America) to the beer-truck drivers. The competition was the International Union of United Brewery, Cereal and Soft Drink Workers of America. One reason for these long names is to provide a stronger basis for jurisdictional claims.

Another long and bitter struggle was between the Carpenters and Sheet-metal unions, both in the AFL. The occasion for the war was the provision in fire codes for metal trims, instead of wood. The carpenters found themselves crowded out of much of their work on skyscrapers and hence they began striking on what was left of their jobs, such as the building of concrete forms.

Andrew Jackson Higgins had one or more of these disputes. The Warner Brothers trouble has been the worst in recent months. Movie actors, little versed in union matters, took an emotional slant. They sided in with what they thought was the "little" or "under-dog" union. They apparently didn't realize that the "little union in Hollywood was the big union nationally, the Brotherhood of Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators of America. A group of a few hundred painters and paperhangers stood against the movie-set union.

Building Industry

These troubles particularly affect the building industry. Many attempts have been made to set up boards of jurisdictional awards. But these boards often fell afoul of one another.

These disputes do not ordinarily mean much to the average workman, except when the members of a small union are threatened with the black-list. But they have been hard on an innocent and uncomprehending public.

It would be a profound service to the country if labor could contribute to the Washington conference some over-all system of labor courts or boards for union differences. But things now look none too bright for such a solution.

New Uranium Areas

By The United Press

LINCOLN, Neb.—Prospects are poor for finding large commercial deposits of uranium in areas not already being mined, according to Prof. E. F. Schramm, chairman of the University of Nebraska geology department.

Schramm warned against the anticipated "postwar rush of prospecting for the metal" to aid in producing atom bombs.

"Instrument makers and device venders whose sucess in business depends upon the stupendous gullibility of human nature soon will be placing their wares upon the market for the purpose of aiding the credulous prospector in his search for uranium ore," the geologist said.

Uranium is not rare, Schramm said, but only a few mining districts in the world can produce the ore in commercial quantities without paying an exorbitant price for its recovery.

The four leading deposits are found in Colorado, Utah and Arizona in the United States, the Belgian Congo, northwest Canada and Bohemia, Schramm said. Czechoslovakia, Australia, Portugal, Norway and Sweden all have mined the ore commercially in the past, but only Czechoslovakia now is producing it, according to the geologist.

Long before the a-bomb, the ore was used industrially as a steel hardener and as pigment for paints and glass, he said.

Maud Muller and the Walkie-Talkie

"WHEN the walkie-talkies go into production as they soon will on a big scale it is expected they will be of great help on farms."—News item.

Maud Muller on a summer day
Raked the meadow sweet with hay.
With walkie-talkie at her side
She threw the gossip far and wide.

* * *

Beneath her torn hat flew the dirt
About Gus, Chester, Marge and Gert.
She gave 'em all that they could take,
And, baby, now that girl could rake!

* * *

The judge rode slowly down the lane
Smoothing his horse's chestnut mane.
He heard the voice; a tight rein drew
For fear his horse might hear it too.
He drew his bridle in the shade
And listened to the gabby maid:—
"Oh, Jennie, have you heard the dirt?—
The Tweedledums have lost their shirt...
The Smathers will be parted soon ...
The Joneses had a brawl this noon
Do tell me if its false or true
That Mrs. Gunch and Gunch are through?...
"I hear the Twickmen girl passed out
At Joey's Night Club: true, no doubt....
The Smith romance is on the skids ...
A certain judge—the tip just came—
Is that way over what's her name?"

* * *

The judge he blushed and turned about
And hauled his walkie-talkie out.
"I'll sue you, Maud," hizzoner cracked
"Unless you speedily retract;
All gossip I abhor and hate
But here's a tip that's pretty straight:
That Muller girl—know who I mean?—
Is tired of that rake routine.
I hear she'd like to get away
From all that scent and all that hay."

* * *

Maud Muller looked and sighed, "Ah me
I guess that comes reliably;
The dope is, judge, you're in the dough
And for you I would gladly go.
"My dad can use a broadcloth coat,
My brother needs a motorboat;
I rather lean to dresses fine
And wedding toasts in vintage wine."

* * *

The judge gave Maud a look quite sour
And wedded a wife of richest dower.
And oft now when the sun shines hot
On the new-mown hay in the meadow lot
Maud ponders, rake still in her clutch,
"I wonder if I talked too much!"

No Cover Charge

By Truman Twill

Of all bright prospects dangled before us by science, none is more tempting to believe in than the coming era of thermostatically-controlled bed covers. This is not merely a stunt that may be performed later, but something already in the works.

Now is the season for the bed covers argument. All the warmies are mulishly insisting on getting along a couple weeks longer with the covers now in use, and the rest of us—the coldies—are shivering in glum despair. On the brisk night we are unable to sleep for frost-bite.

Someone has to be blamed for this, so we give the lady of the house hard looks and charge her with full responsibility for our discomfort and sniffles. Households are strained with tension. It will go on this way until winter closes in, but even then the lady of the house will be expected to see to it that all sudden drops and rises in temperature are accommodated by shifts in the bed covers, even if she has to stand guard all night.

No single thing, except clothing itself, has caused more bad feeling than this annual hoo rassle over keeping warm. It is major news as relief booms on the distant horizon. If they can build heat control into bed covers, they can build it into clothing—in fact, they did it for aviators in the war. In the future, everybody will be able to stay as warm or as cold as he wants to be 24 hours a day independently of everybody else. Families will be able to move from one season into another without strained relations.

The heavy underwear issue will be liquidated for all time. Underwear will be the same the year 'round, and in cold weather it will be worn for warmth. Junior's pants and Susie's skirts will be equipped with thermostats. The whole dreary business of trying to out-guess the climate will be handled by remote control. Everything already has been done, except the detail of getting the electric current hooked up.

It's something to dream about in November while heavy clothing is being looked up and laid in, while a cold night is followed by snifts at breakfast and a warm one is followed by recriminations over being too stuffy. There's a great day coming when wool socks, snow suits, stocking caps, mittens, mufflers, flannel shirts, overcoats and all the cumbersome paraphernalia of comfort in the north temperate zone can be forgotten. We'll be able to flip a switch and twiddle a regulator and call it a day—and the only cause for concern is that it may not happen soon enough to keep us all from catching our death of pneumonia first.

LINCOLN, Neb.—Note from the thingsto-come department: dried eggs soon will be used extensively in this country.

Reports from agricultural marketing specialists indicate homemakers testing the eggs have used them with success in baking and cooking. The dried eggs never will take the place of fresh eggs, but they have some advantages, according to the specialists.

However, the experts are certain that anyone who has had a son, husband or friend overseas will have difficulty getting the dried product into the house.

Navy Bomber Now a Laboratory

By International News Service

LAS VEGAS, N. M.—A Navy Patrol bomber settled down on the Las Vegas Airport. For the huge plane, the airport was the end of the line.

The plane will never fly again. It will become a working laboratory for the students of the Vocational Department of Highlands university. The plane was acquired by the university from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation after it had been transferred from the Navy. A second large plane of another type will join the veteran navy patrol bomber. Both will be used as classroom mockup laboratories by the students. Later they will be taken apart and made up into training mockups.

The retired plane is a veteran of three years of active patrol duty with many hundreds of flying hours to its credit.

To take the dear one from my home,
But though mine eyes with tears be dim
The Lord knows why—I'll trust in Him.

So though I may not understand
The leadings of my Father's hand,
I know of all He has the key,
He understands each mystery.

PEDESTRIAN HIT, DRIVER ARRESTED

William Michel Injured by Car of Marysville Man.

William Michel, 75, of 512 Pearl street suffered a fracture above the left knee when he was struck Monday afternoon at 1:29 p. m. by a car driven by Elmer C. Jolliff, 49, of near Marysville.

Mr. Michel was crossing South Prospect street at Bellefontaine avenue when he was struck by Jolliff's car attempting to turn from South Prospect street into Bellefontaine avenue. He was taken to City hospital where first aid was administered.

Jolliff was arrested on a charge of driving without due care and arraigned this morning in municipal court. He pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for Friday morning at 10 a. m.

REPORT REDS INVADE MANCHURIA CAPITAL

By The Associated Press

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20—Chinese Communist troops were reported invading Manchuria's capital today in a race with rival Nationalist soldiers, already 35 miles inside the vital industrial territory after a breakthrough in the south.

The China Times declared 4,000 Communist troops had entered the capital of Changchun, but failed to say whether Russian occupation forces still were in the city.

Do YOU Own A "Scratching" Dog?

Does your dog constantly scratch, dig, rub and bite himself—often until his skin is raw and sore? He may be perfectly clean and free from fleas, but suffering from an intense itching irritation that has centered in the nerve endings of his skin. He is in torment and can't help scratching—unless you try to help him. Try giving him Red Heaters Dog Powders, once each week, and note the quick improvement. One owner writes: "If my dog could talk I know he would say thanks for Red Heaters Dog Powders. He was raw and sore from scratching and just lay around, now he plays and is full of pep." Ask for Red Heaters Dog Powders at any good drug store, pet or sport shop. Only 35c. (Economy size 16c only $1.00).

20 Nazi Chiefs Go On Trial

of the Third Reich were reconstructed in English.

Lord Lawrence told the defendants Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union and France had been entrusted with the punishment of all criminals guilty of the greatest crime against humanity and declared: "The time has come to bring to justice those responsible for the organized murder of millions of people who were innocent."

Sidney S. Alderman, associate counsel for U. S. Supreme Justice Robert H. Jackson, read the indictment during which Hermann Goering, Kesten, and Ley, being deaf, had earphones provided for each defendant.

Two Use Device

Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and Walther Funk, former Reichsbank president, used the American translating device.

Goering nodded non-committally when Prosecutor Alderman referred to the overriding control of German economy in preparation for armed aggression after 1936.

The prosecution tables were headed by Justice Jackson sat at the head of the United States delegation.

At Alderman's mention of anti-Jewish fulminations during the pre-war period by Alfred Rosenberg, that defendant hurriedly replaced his earphones. Julius Streicher, No. 1 Jew-baiter, sat bolt upright when he was named.

Goering nodded with emphasis when the prosecutor recalled his announcement of 10 years ago that Germany was building a military air force.

Gives Summary

Prosecutor Alderman ended the reading of the first count of the indictment with these words.

"The defendants with divers other persons are guilty of a common plan of conspiracy for accomplishment of crimes against peace—against humanity — war crimes not only against armed forces of their enemies but also against non belligerent civilian populations."

The 20 Nazi defendants were dressed in simple uniforms without medals or insignia of rank or in civilian suits donated from charity stores.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Hitler's trigger man in the 1938 seizure of Austria, stared blankly through thick lensed spectacles as his role in the Nazi scheming for power was unfolded.

To Challenge Court

A German attorney disclosed that Goering's counsel, on behalf of the entire defense group, intended to offer a joint declaration challenging the jurisdiction of the international court.

The Nazis have had since Oct. 18 to read and study the indictment.

The defendants exhibited their greatest solemnity while a portion of the indictment was read describing the murder of millions of Nazi victims in Europe.

Eat Heartily

During the recess for lunch, the defendants remained in the court and ate heartily from American Army messkits.

When the court was cleared, the Nazis leaped up and began shaking hands with each other enthusiastically. Though many had occupied adjoining cells for months, solitary confinement had restricted their conversations.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former Reichsbank president, commented: "I have read the indictment so many times myself that if they read it in court just once more, I'll have it memorized."

Field Marshal Wilhelm Kietel, once chief of the German high command, and Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, former chief of the general staff and Hitler's military adviser, stood in neatly pressed uniforms. Dr. Franz Exner of Munich university, Jodl's counsel, wore a purple robe.

The French completed reading the third count of the indictment, recounting Nazi conscription of foreign labor, brutal Germanization of occupied territories, the killing of hostages and the plunder of properties.

Russian Reads

The deputy Soviet prosecutor then started reading the fourth count—"crimes against humanity," a recapitulation of the horrors of concentration camps in Poland and Russia.

Hans Frank, once the governor-general of Poland, cupped his right ear and leaned forward nervously.

MRS. GEORGE RHOADS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Illness of 10 Days Fatal to Marion County Woman.

Mrs. Ameda Ellen Rhoads, 72, wife of George L. Rhoads of eight miles west of Marion, died at the home at 8:15 a. m. today. She was ill 10 days.

Born Nov. 17, 1873 in Harlan county, she was a daughter of Horace W. Riley and Jennie Bresnahne Riley, the father a native of Marion county and the mother of Rockingham Court House, N. C. Oct. 16, 1893 she was married to Mr. Rhoads near Marion. She was a member of the Meeker Methodist church and of the W.S.C.S. of the church.

Survivors with her husband are a son Harold Riley Rhoads of near Marion, one grandchild, three great grandchildren and two brothers, Frank E. Riley of Meeker and Harry W. Riley of Sacramento, Calif.

The body was brought to the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue where friends may call after 7 Wednesday night. Funeral arrangements were not complete at noon today.

made into adequate sailormen if their services became necessary," Richardson told the committee.

The next day, Richardson said he saw Hull, Sumner Wells, then undersecretary of state, was present.

William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, asked why the conference was held with Hull.

"I wanted to fully explore the situation and learn all I could about why the fleet was being retained in Pearl Harbor, how long it would be there, and what the future intentions were," Richardson replied.

He testified yesterday he had urged President Roosevelt at a later conference to order the fleet returned to the west coast and stripped for action as a deterrent to Japan. But he said the President wanted the fleet kept at Pearl Harbor.

Wanted Background

In telling today of his meeting with Hull to learn the reasons for retention of the ships at Hawaii, Richardson said:

"I had been directed to retain the fleet there and to announce that it was being retained at my request. Naturally, since I had made no such request, I wanted to know what was back of the whole thing."

Richardson said that while in Washington he also saw Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff; James F. Byrnes, then a senator and now secretary of state, and Dr. Stanley Hornbeck.

GLAMOUR BOYS

Neurath once conducted the foreign policy of Hitler's Third Reich, later lorded it over Bohemia and Moravia as protector and was known to oppose the methods of Propaganda Minister Goebbels. Today he found himself next to Goebbels' right-hand man, the sallow-complexioned Fritzsche. Neither spoke a word to the other.

What About Hess

The enigma for me was Rudolf Hess. Is he partly demented as claimed.

From the moment Hess took his seat between Goering and von Ribbentrop until the court's formal opening, Hess seemed utterly indifferent to what was going on about him. He appeared to stare into vacant space. But while others watched the presiding judge, listening to opening statements, Hitler's former deputy carefully scanned the press section and spectators' gallery.

Later, during the reading of the indictment, at the first mention of Hitler's name, he pulled Goering by the sleeve and told him something with a smile and an emphatic nod of the head.

Still later, when he was apparently bored by the reading, he engaged in a long conversation with von Ribbentrop, often flashing an almost impish smile.

Hess, of all the prisoners, seemed the palest.

Goering Up Front

Goering sat in the first seat next to the press box and was best visible to everybody.

A gleam of recognition flashed over his face as he surveyed the press box and saw the faces of former longtime Berlin correspondents.

But he wasn't the same Goering these correspondents knew during the Reichstag fire trial of 1933, when he threatened to beat up Sergei Dimitrov in court or when, during swanky days, or on the day after his wedding in 1935, he asked them to see the presents which "love of my people showered upon me."

The first special mail trail made the trip from New York to Chicago in 30 hours and 40 minutes in 1875.

No Honor Among Foes' War Lords, Mackenzie Finds

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the outstanding characteristics of the Japanese and German war lords, as is being brought out in the Pearl Harbor investigation and through the discovery of secret Nazi records is their cold blooded duplicity.

There was (and is) no honesty among them. We see that in the callous trickery which Hitler, Goering and other Nazi leaders used in annexing little Austria, while they kept the rest of Europe quiet with double-talk. We see it in the Jap treachery in striking at Pearl Harbor behind the shield of peace negotiations.

D. Mackenzie

Every day emphasizes the necessity of removing these warmongers from society. It's gratifying to see the Nuernberg trials of top Nazis opening today before the international war crimes tribunal. It's equally satisfactory to learn that Baron General Honjo, reputed head of the militarists who staged the conquest of Manchuria, has committed hara-kiri rather than face trial as a war criminal along with numerous other militarists whom General MacArthur has ordered imprisoned pending their appearance before the Allied court of Justice.

World Better Off

Far be it from us to gloat over Honjo's suicide. It takes a deuce of a lot of courage to rip your body open with a sword and then cut your throat to end the job. Still the world will be a better place without Honjo—and without his gang who will come to trial.

However, I don't think we should be very astute analysts if we placed the entire Japanese nation in the same category as Honjo. For instance, there seems no reason to doubt Envoy Kurusu's word when he says he and Nomura were doing an honest job of negotiating in Washington when the Jap war lords knifed Pearl Harbor. Kurusu and Nomura say they didn't know an air attack was to be made. Let's give them the benefit of any doubt.

But the Jap militarists were born crooked. I ran into a startling illustration of that during the first World war.

While I was stationed in London in 1916 as correspondent I received word from New York that Wall Street was much disturbed over a phenomenon they couldn't explain. It was a steady flow of gold to Japan, which was one of the Allies. The Japs were collecting gold—but why?

Tells Amazing Story

I took this problem to an American banker operating in London. We were sitting in his private office, with the door open into the main room, when I broached the question, and he jumped and took a quick look at that open door to see if anyont had heard. Then he said.

"I can't discuss this here, but come out to my home for dinner tonight and I will tell you about it."

That night in his den he unfolded an amazing story. The British bankers also had noted the flow of gold to Japan many months before. There were a lot of angles to the operation—movement of securities and so on—but the financial experts finally put the jigsaw puzzle together. All the evidence indicated that the Japs were getting ready to desert the Allies and switch to Germany.

America hadn't yet come into the war, and the German militarists were doing very well for themselves. The Japs figured the Kaiser was going to win and they wanted to be in on the loot. Before they got round to desert their alliance, the tide began to turn and then America came into the war. So Japan didn't flop.

INDUSTRY CRITICIZES CONFERENCE REPORT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—Management spokesmen, complaining of what they termed "unrealistic" work being done in committees of the labor-management conference hinted today they might file separate reports for conference consideration.

A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers reported industry delegates want changes in a proposed report of the committee on settlement of disputes arising under existing labor contracts. The report recommends voluntary arbitration as the final step in achieving peaceable settlement.

The spokesmen said the committeemen from industry believe the recommendation should be reinforced with penalties or enforcement clauses.

Management delegates also criticized the one report so far filed with the executive committee. This is concerned with procedures for arriving at a first contract between a company and a union. The management delegates sought, but failed to get, provision for fact - finding bodies which would make public reports on disputes; the fixing of definite lengths of time during which each stage of negotiation and conciliation would proceed without a work stoppage; and also, a guarantee that, if an election were held to decide which union represents the workers, there would be no strike by a losing union.

ARMY PATS ITS BACK ON RETURN OF MEN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—The Army U. S. today that despite strikes and shorter working hours more men have been brought home in six months than were in the whole of World War I's AEF.

A war department statement said 2,047,588 were returned from overseas from V-E day May 8 to November 2 and that during October 311,000 up to Nov. 1. Armistice day strength in World War I was 3,675,888, and in those 1,079,760 were overseas. That return was not completed until April, 1919.

The department said it expects 1,100,000 men to reach eastern ports and 195,000 western ports this month. It expects 423,000 in the east and 560,000 in the west in December. Arrivals will taper off in January to 235,000 in the east, 205,000 in the west.

The statement added that "except for delays in turning around ships in both coasts because of strikes and shorter working hours, and the loss of some British transports, there would have been shipping enough to exceed withdrawal quotas by the end of the year. It added that the original "target dates" still will be met.

These are:

January 31—All troops back from Europe and the Mediterranean except 370,000 occupation soldiers and 300,000 needed to dispose of surplus property. The 300,000 all will be in the U. S. by June 30.

June 30—All troops back from the Pacific and other areas except occupation and garrison complements—leaving 400,000 in the Pacific, 100,000 in the other areas.

ONE YEAR LATER. Forest (Nubbins) Hoffman, four, is looking forward to Christmas on "standard time" this year. A year ago his parents gave him an early Christmas because he was not expected to survive a bladder ailment. An operation saved his life.

Brothers in Court Following Fight

LeRoy Bell, 19, of near Caledonia who suffered head injuries when engaged in a fight with his brother at 2 a. m. Sunday on South State street pleaded guilty in municipal court yesterday to charges of intoxicattion, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest and was fined $100 and costs. His brother, George, 23, entered a plea of not guilty to the three charges and was released under $125 bond pending a later hearing. The two men were arrested when found engaged in an argument, police said.

YAMASHITA TO OPEN DEFENSE TOMORROW

By The Associated Press

MANILA, NovNv. 20—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, defeated in his latest attempt to escape death as a war criminal, must begin his defense tomorrow.

Yamashita appeared composed today although his pleas for a "not guilty" verdict and for a delay in presentation of his defense were denied by the U. S. military commission trying him.

In pleading for dismissal of the charges against Yamashita—who is accused of permitting countless atrocities by troops of his Philippines command — Col. Harry Clarke, chief defense counsel, argued that only two witnesses, both accused as collaborationists, even remotely linked Yamashita with the horrors described daily by other witnesses.

OHIO MENTAL CLINIC CHAIN IS PROPOSED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30—In an effort to meet the growing problem of mental illness [illegible] as well as of the [illegible] examination of a plan for the establishment of a chain of mental hygiene clinics to supplement proposed mental clinics at Cleveland and Cincinnati and a treatment center at Brookville.

State welfare department officials said the plan has not been worked out but that the proposal would be submitted to the forthcoming special session of the legislature.

The proposal was explained in an article by Dr. Howard J. Humphreys, chief of [illegible] and education in the mental hygiene division, in a department publication, "On the Record."

Dr. Humphreys wrote:

"Civilian draft by figures indicate that about one in 20 of the general population will need institutional treatment for mental disorders at one time or another in life, and that about one in 10 of us requires (but often does not get) competent psychiatric aid in the community. Can we [illegible] be more realistic than [illegible]?"

Accused of Breaking Lights

Two youths, ages 14 and 15, appeared in juvenile court yesterday on complaints of residents of the vicinity of Adams and Van Buren street, of their breaking street lights at the street intersection. One boy is being detained at the Marion county detention home for breaking the light and the other was released after he admitted he had thrown at the light but did not hit it. The practice has been carried on for several weeks and a number of lights have been broken, juvenile authorities stated. The boys were brought into court by their parents upon orders of Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast.

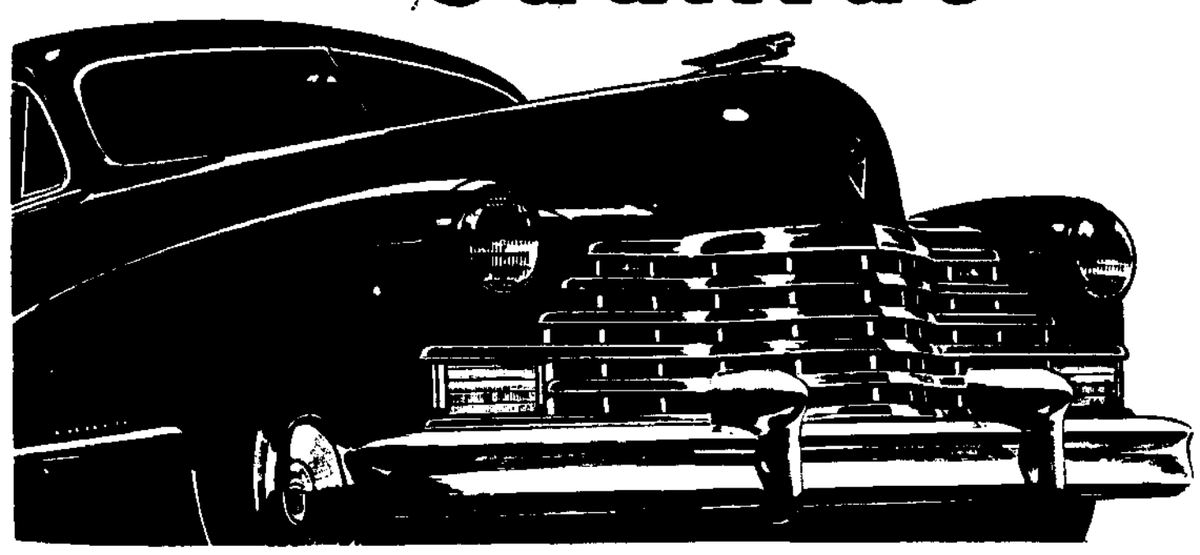
THE NEW 1946 Cadillac



More Beautiful and Luxurious
...AND POWERED BY THE GREAT VICTORY ENGINE

THERE IS BIG NEWS about Cadillac this year. For Cadillac has really been improved for 1946. Not just in styling—although the 1946 Cadillac is far more beautiful in every way. Not just in comfort and luxury—although here, too, Cadillac has made great strides . . . Cadillac's improvement is basic and fundamental! Cadillac built its world-famous engine and transmission for the Armed Services as power units for tanks and other motorized weapons. All during the war, while no passenger cars were being built anywhere, Cadillac's engine assembly line continued to roll. And what is even more important—improvement, too, went steadily ahead. The engine and transmission . . . which contributed so much to Allied victory . . . were actually improved more in four years of war than would have been normal in four years of peace! Cadillac not only had the world's battlefields as a testing ground—but the technical staffs of the army and navy were available as consultants. . . . What an engine this is now! And what a transmission the new Hydra-Matic is! You've never experienced anything even remotely like this "power train" for smoothness, quietness, and quickness of acceleration. . . . Improvement, in fact, is found throughout the car. Comfort is greater, handling is easier, roadability is better. Likewise, there is new interior luxury. Wherever you look, in fact, you will be conscious of a new Standard of the World. . . . But the really vital improvement is mechanical. You'll have to take the wheel of this new Cadillac to experience fully what has happened. Do this at your earliest convenience. . . . And get your name on the list for the earliest possible delivery.
